ASU Honorees Are Selected

Held off-campus and in conjunction with the Spring Fling, the Spring Formal climaxes a series of events during the preceding week.

The Spring Formal climaxes with the presentation of Mr. and Miss ASU, Frances Pietzsch and Bobby Menchaca. Miss Pietzsch is the senior Press Club nominee, while Menchaca is the senior nominee of the Baptist Student Union.

Other Miss ASU finalists include juniors Diana Block, representing Pi Kappa Alpha; Sandra D'Andrea, Alpha Epsilon's nominee; Jan Henderson, representing Delta Sigma Pi; and senior Jerry Johnston, a nominee of the XGI Club.

Mr. ASU candidates include seniors Alan Kelley, Press Club's nominee; Billy Ratliff, representative of Lambda Tau Sorority; Bobby Sims, Women's Residence Hall Association nominee; and Jack Srader, Delta Sigma Pi representative.

Mr. and Miss ASU are Bobby Menchaca and Frances Pietzsch.

Menchaca is a physical education major from Christoval.

Miss Pietzsch, hailing from Roscoe, is an English major.

ASU finalists include Sandra D'Andrea and Bobby Sims.

Jerry Johnston and Billy Ratliff also hail as candidates.

Jack Srader and Jan Henderson also are nominees for the honor.

ASUSA members Diana Block and Alan Kelley are finalists.

'Standing Proud in '69' Is Theme For A-State Homecoming Activities

Pride '69 rings out with solid meaning as A-State's Student Association announces the theme for this year's HOMECOMING set for Nov. 1.

A full week of activities finalized by a victory game and announcement of Homecoming Queen Diana Block is kicked off as the ASUSA challenges the faculty to a flag football game with the students winning and some of the faculty members aching.

Monday is designated Blue Day and also is the day of final election of queen. Coeds vying for the title are Marsha Behrens, Diana Block, Jan Henderson, Empress McFarland, Sara Trigg, Nancy Fraser and Martha Jordan.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" are among several features of the film festival on Tuesday.

A mock cemetery, built by the Angelettes features graves of the Tarleton Texans who fall to a 40-14 defeat on Saturday.

Students and ex-students alike take part in the annual function.

Dwight Burns (15) is caught by a camera seconds before a hand-off during the ASU-Tarleton game.

Jim Kinney expresses his sympathy for the Tarleton Texans who face the Rams.

Alan Kelley and Max Bumgardner exhibit their skills as the faculty falls 26-16.

About 180 students view ASU's first film festival which featured "Dracula," the "Road-runner," and others.

Fred Moore and Diana Block man the ballot box as finalists for Homecoming Queen are elected from a slate of 19 candidates nominated by various on-campus organizations.

Students Share In Happenings

Much planning and work go into having a successful Homecoming, or so finds the Student Association and various organizations who participated in spirit-building acts during Homecoming Week.

Approximately 50 units take part in the annual parade, including nine club-sponsored floats. The winning float yields $100 for Pi Kappa Alpha.

A mourners' march, bonfire, Winter Carnival, and band dance set the mood of Halloween and Homecoming Eve.

BSU students find constructing a float quite a challenge.

Students march on from the Student Center to the twin dorms.

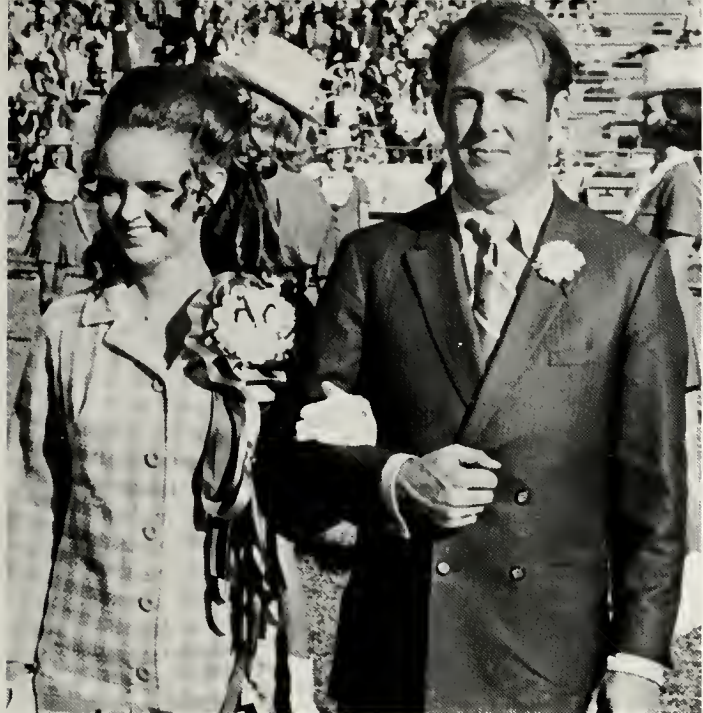

Jan Henderson, Delta Sigma Pi nominee, finds that minutes prior to the crowning have a way of crawling by slowly.

Marsha Behrens, Lambda Chi Alpha nominee, sits atop her convertible awaiting the halftime activities.

Many students take out their aggressions at the carnival.

With the announcement of the winner moments away, Nancy Fraser, Lambda Tau nominee and Bill Crouch stand patiently.

Parade, Game Highlight Event

Kicking off the big day is the annual parade in downtown San Angelo headed by such dignitaries as Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vincent, Senator and Mrs. Pete Snelson and Representative Forrest A. Harding.

A meeting of the Exes under the presidentship of Marvin Dierschke of Wall follows the parade bringing together past SAC, ASC and ASU members.

The game—Rams v. Tarleton Texans—combined with the halftime event fill the afternoon as Diana Block, Wall junior speech major, is crowned Homecoming Queen and the Rams battle for their season's fifth win, scuffling the Texans 40-14.

A dance by the music of the Sparkles ends the week.

Lambda Chi Alpha members pull their second-place float down Beauregard Street.

Ten area bands participate in the annual Band Day sponsored by the ASU Golden Ram Band as an attempt to recruit new members.

Martha Jordan, Women's Residence Hall Association nominee, and her escort are being presented at halftime.

Maurice Havlak acts as escort for Pi Kappa Alpha's nominee, Empress McFarland during the day's activities.

Men's Hi-Rise Dorm nominee Sara Trigg proceeds with her escort onto the field.

Diana Block, Angelette nominee, receives the crown and trophy from President Vincent and former Homecoming Queen Sandra D'Andrea as escort Marshall Huling looks on.

An estimated 10,500 spectators turned out to view this year's Homecoming halftime and game in which the Rams rallied 40-14.

Mistletoe Ball Sees Two Nominees Crowned Mistletoe Belle and Beau

With "Peace" as its theme and a 12-foot flocked Christmas tree decorated with white doves, butterflies, velvet fruit, and packages, the annual MISTLETOE BALL attendees danced to music by Felecity, a group from Dallas.

Named at this event, Martha Jordan and Bobby Menchaca are now reigning as Mistletoe Belle and Beau. Miss Jordan is the Pi Kappa Alpha nominee and Menchaca represents the Women's High Rise Residence Hall.

Belle and Beau selections are made from a field of ten finalists. Besides the winners, those vying include Billy Ratliff, the senior nominee of Delta Sigma Pi and Bill DeMent, a sophomore representing the sophomore class. Other Beau candidates are Marvin Schultz, the junior nominee of Pi Kappa Alpha, and Bobby Sims, senior representative of Lambda Tau sorority.

Belle candidates include juniors Debby Day, representing the Women's High Rise Residence Hall and Maryann Stephens, the Angelettes' selection. Others are Delta Sigma Pi candidate Jan Henderson and XGI Association candidate Jerry Johnston.

R. to L. Bobby Sims, Maryann Stephens, Marvin Schultz, Billy Ratliff, Jerry Johnston, Bobby Menchaca, Jan Henderson, Bill DeMent, Debby Day, Dr. Lloyd Vincent.

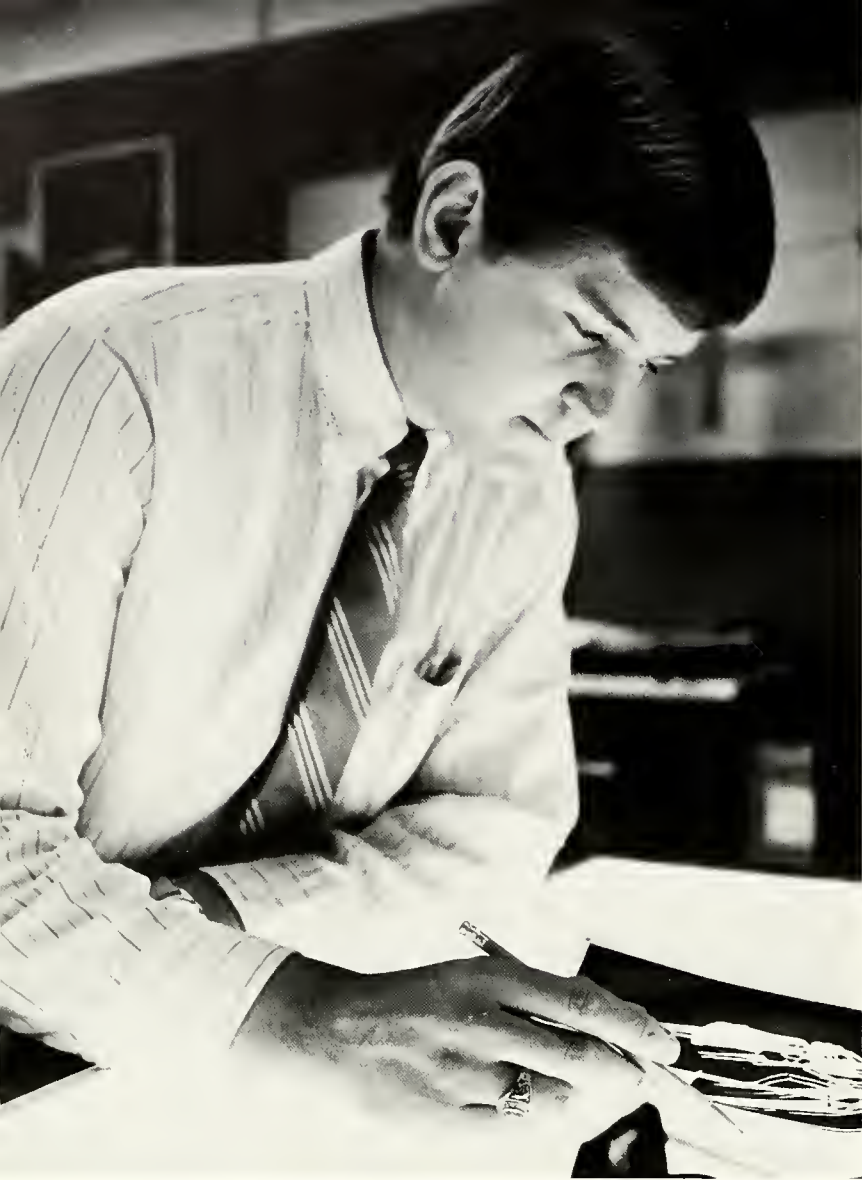

Decorations for the Mistletoe Ball include white doves, velvet fruit, and packages.

Mistletoe honorees Maryann Stephens and Billy Ratliff dance to music of Felecity.

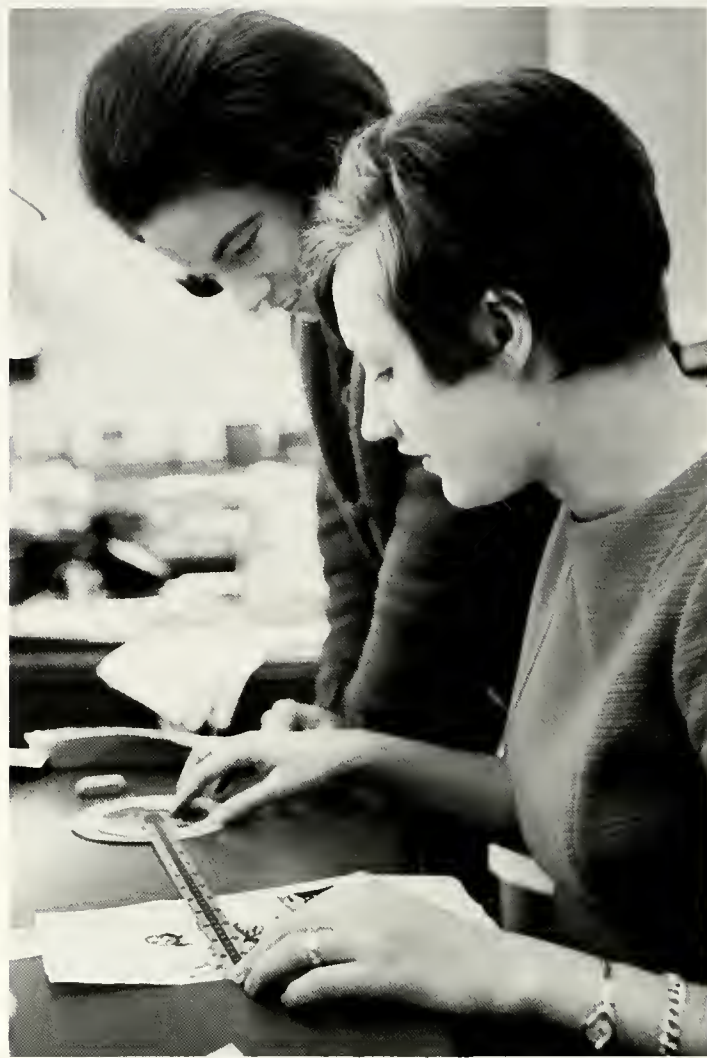

Martha Jordan and Bobby Menchaca are named Mistletoe Belle and Beau at the affair.

Internship Provides Journalism Skill

Journalism majors and minors have the opportunity to receive on-the-job professional training through the INTERNSHIP program with the San Angelo Standard-Times. Junior journalists spend five weeks as interns on the staff, during which time they work 100 hours in all aspects of the editorial departments. Special emphasis is given to news writing, editing, design, and layout.

During the summer a similar program is offered to any student wishing to pursue a career in the newspaper field. He can be employed at any of the Hart-Hanks, Inc., newspapers for six weeks and six hours credit.

Working in this program offers the journalism student experience in his chosen field as he faces deadlines, the unrelenting demands for thoroughness and accuracy, the requirements of time and space, and the opportunities for originality. Students' work is supervised by Standard-Times editors who make assignments, provide guidance, and evaluate the finished product.

Students Sample Suite Living

Married life, combined with getting an education, finds its place in ASU's ROSEMONT APARTMENTS where some 64 college-sponsored units are available for ASU married students, faculty and staff members.

The one- and two-bedroom unfurnished dwellings are gathered into eight complexes west of the main campus and one east.

There were 59 families housed in the fall of '69. Maximum capacity was expected for the spring semester.

The apartments were rented by the college in 1964 from San Angelo Industries and in July of 1967 the College purchased the housing.

Rambouillet Captures Activities

Recording and preserving the activities of the year, the RAMBOUILLET staff works at careful layout, editing, and design.

The publication is designed to capture—with pictures and words—the climate of the ASU campus. It is not intended to capture all of the events of the year since it is possible to capture only a few. But there is an attempt to make a complete coverage of the varied lives of the ASU students and faculty.

Janice Halfmann, index editor, searches for correct letters while Janie Williams talks with Wanda Halfmann about their section.

Jeanette Kujawski, section editor, is in deep concentration as she types copy for the organization pages.

Photographers Bernie Shaffer, Beverly Farley, and Carl Bussey focus, enlarge and proof with Omega Enlargers.

Pensador Vies As Magazine

A quarterly magazine, the PENSADOR, is an attempt for ASU students to display their photographic and literary talents. Pictures, poems, and short stories make up the contents of this magazine.

Larry Syler, photographer for the San Angelo Standard-Times gives critique of a Rambouillet photograph to Julie Pressly, Judy Matthiesen, and Advisor Kenneth Casstevens.

Student Teaching Assignment Is Highlight Of Teacher Education

After four or more years of scholastic endeavors, a select group of Angelo State University students have the privilege of sitting behind the instructor's desk. This select group are the STUDENT TEACHERS. Forty-eight student teachers executed their teaching assignments during the fall semester, while the spring semester saw 122 student teachers complete their supervised teaching.

Criteria for admission to the Teacher Education Program and assignment to Student Teaching are physical, mental, and academic soundness.

Upon completion of the Student Teaching assignment, a teaching certificate is obtained by taking the National Teacher Examination, having a 2.25 over-all grade point average, and receiving recommendation by the Teacher Education Council.

Through Supervised Teaching, chemistry student teacher Thomas Marsden has the opportunity to develop skills in the art of teaching.

History teacher Patsy Phinney relaxes with a student before lunch.

Mary Ann Wunderl teaches English full-time for at least eight weeks.

Spring semester secondary school student teachers meet to discuss the joys and problems of their experience with Dr. Douglas John.

Patsy Phinney is one of the 56 spring semester secondary school student teachers.

Larry Gabler is working toward teacher certification, a requirement of all public school teachers.

The teacher education program of Angelo State University has been accredited by the Texas Education Agency since 1965.

Student teacher Barbara Gray, under Miss Natalie Gunter's guidance, is in charge of the high school girl's physical education program.

Mrs. Bryna Lane assists Jim Kinney as his cooperating teacher.

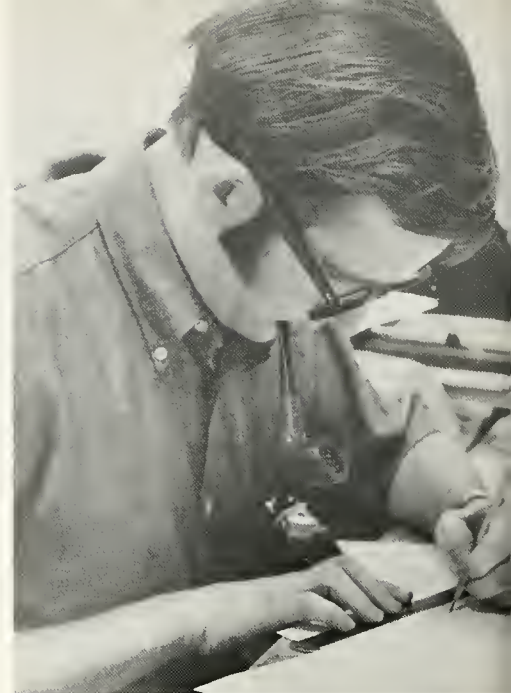

Joe Marthiljohni counsels with his college supervisor, Dr. David Tullis.

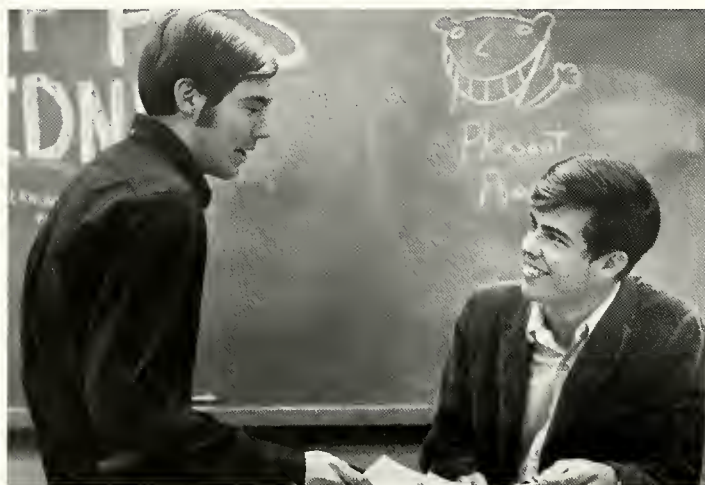

Ram Page Acquaints Campus With News

Reporting weekly events on the Angelo State University campus serves as the function of the RAM PAGE, the student newspaper. This weekly communications media serves as the voice of the students, faculty, and administration. It projects the news of the past, present, and future life on campus. With accuracy and completeness as its principal goals, the staff works toward careful editing, rewriting, and proofreading. Editorials in the Ram Page are written to reflect student views on campus and outside world matters. Responses written by students on articles and happenings are printed in the "Letters to the Editor" column. The Ram Page is published under the direction of the Department of Journalism.

Stanley Wilson, serving as business manager, puts ads on the dummy sheets.

Photographer Austin Stockton gives editor Alan Kelley pictures.

Jeanine Kunkel and Karen Kelley serve as circulation managers.

Staff writers Empress McFarland and Gayle Childers go over the details of a story.

Bill Brumfield edits sports copy.

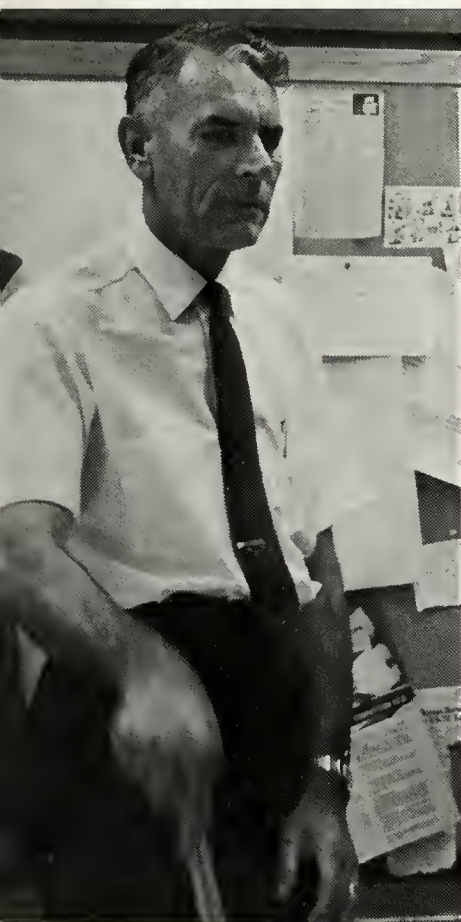

Staff writer Ray Mayo, associate sports editor Bill Brumfield and Barbara Bigard, and staff writer Debbie Roop occupy themselves with activities in the staff room.

Associate editor Eddie Walraven goes over copy with news editor Nell Fischer.

Wayland Yates serves as the advisor to Angelo State's paper, the Ram Page.

Assistant news editor Terrilee Pettigrew points out and offers a correction to a story in the paper to staff writers Roy Ivey, Linda Hoelscher, and Joyce Zimmerschied.

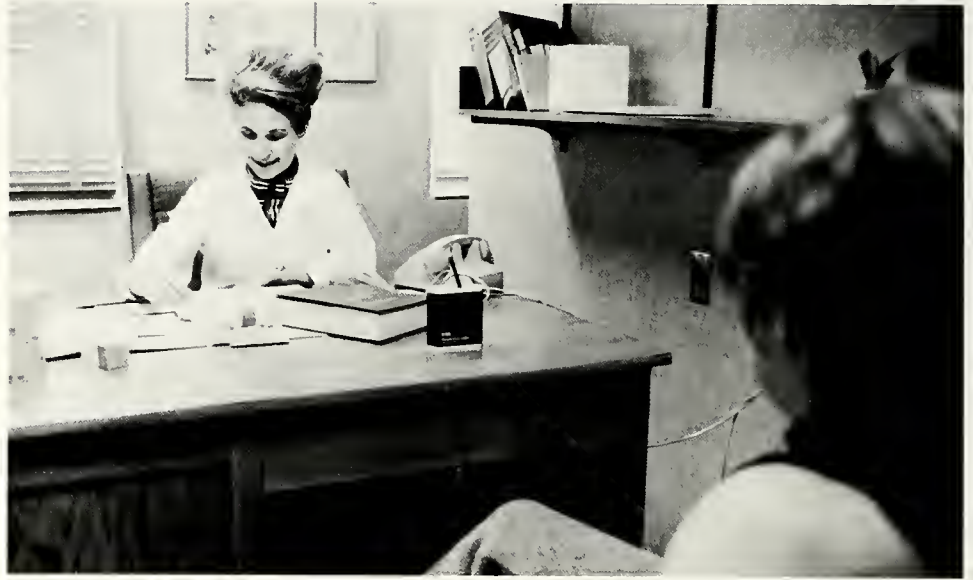

New Clinic Affords Health Services

With the beginning of the spring term comes the opening of a new university HEALTH CLINIC and thus improved health services for Angelo State students.

The clinic, remodeled from Concho Hall, a former men's dormitory, includes two doctor's offices with two examining rooms adjoining each. Other facilities in the clinic include a laboratory, a small pharmacy, treatment and therapy rooms, and rooms for emergency treatment. Students also have the opportunity to remain in the clinic overnight for observation.

Clinic physician is Dr. Darlene Hunter. Members of the staff include Mrs. Frank Nichols, medical assistant, and Mrs. Eddie Glenn, registered nurse.

Dr. Darlene Hunter, the new clinic's physician, spends much time in student conferences.

Mrs. Eddie Glenn, registered nurse, serves as a receptionist for the clinic, recording the names and illnesses of ASU students.

Junior Eddie Burkett displays no emotion as Mrs. Frank Nichols injects penicillin into his arm.

Blood typing is one way in which the clinicians discover the student's anemic condition; the nurse pricks a finger, gets a drop of blood, and tests for the white blood corpuscle count which indicates anemia if the count is below normal.

ASU students have the opportunity to receive special attention by remaining in the infirmary overnight.

Dr. Hunter examines the throat of ASU'er Judy Rose.

'A Babble of Confabulators' Makes Hit as Winter Forensics Activity

Babbling forensics carry on as the Fine Arts Department under the direction of Helen Schafer, speech instructor, presents "A BABBLE OF CONFABULATORS" to inform the world of what goes on inside the department.

Included in the show is a duet reading by James Buchanan and Karen Pearson of a cutting from "Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolf" by Edward Albee.

A short debate is given with the thesis: Resolved: That society should hold Mary Shannon legally responsible for murder. Carl Dodd and Andy Kever, the negative team, and Marvin Schultz and Rachel Harris, affirmative, reflect the challenges and problems involved in a tournament situation.

Fred Moore delivers the dilemmas of a stage manager, a humorous extemporaneous talk which concludes Act I.

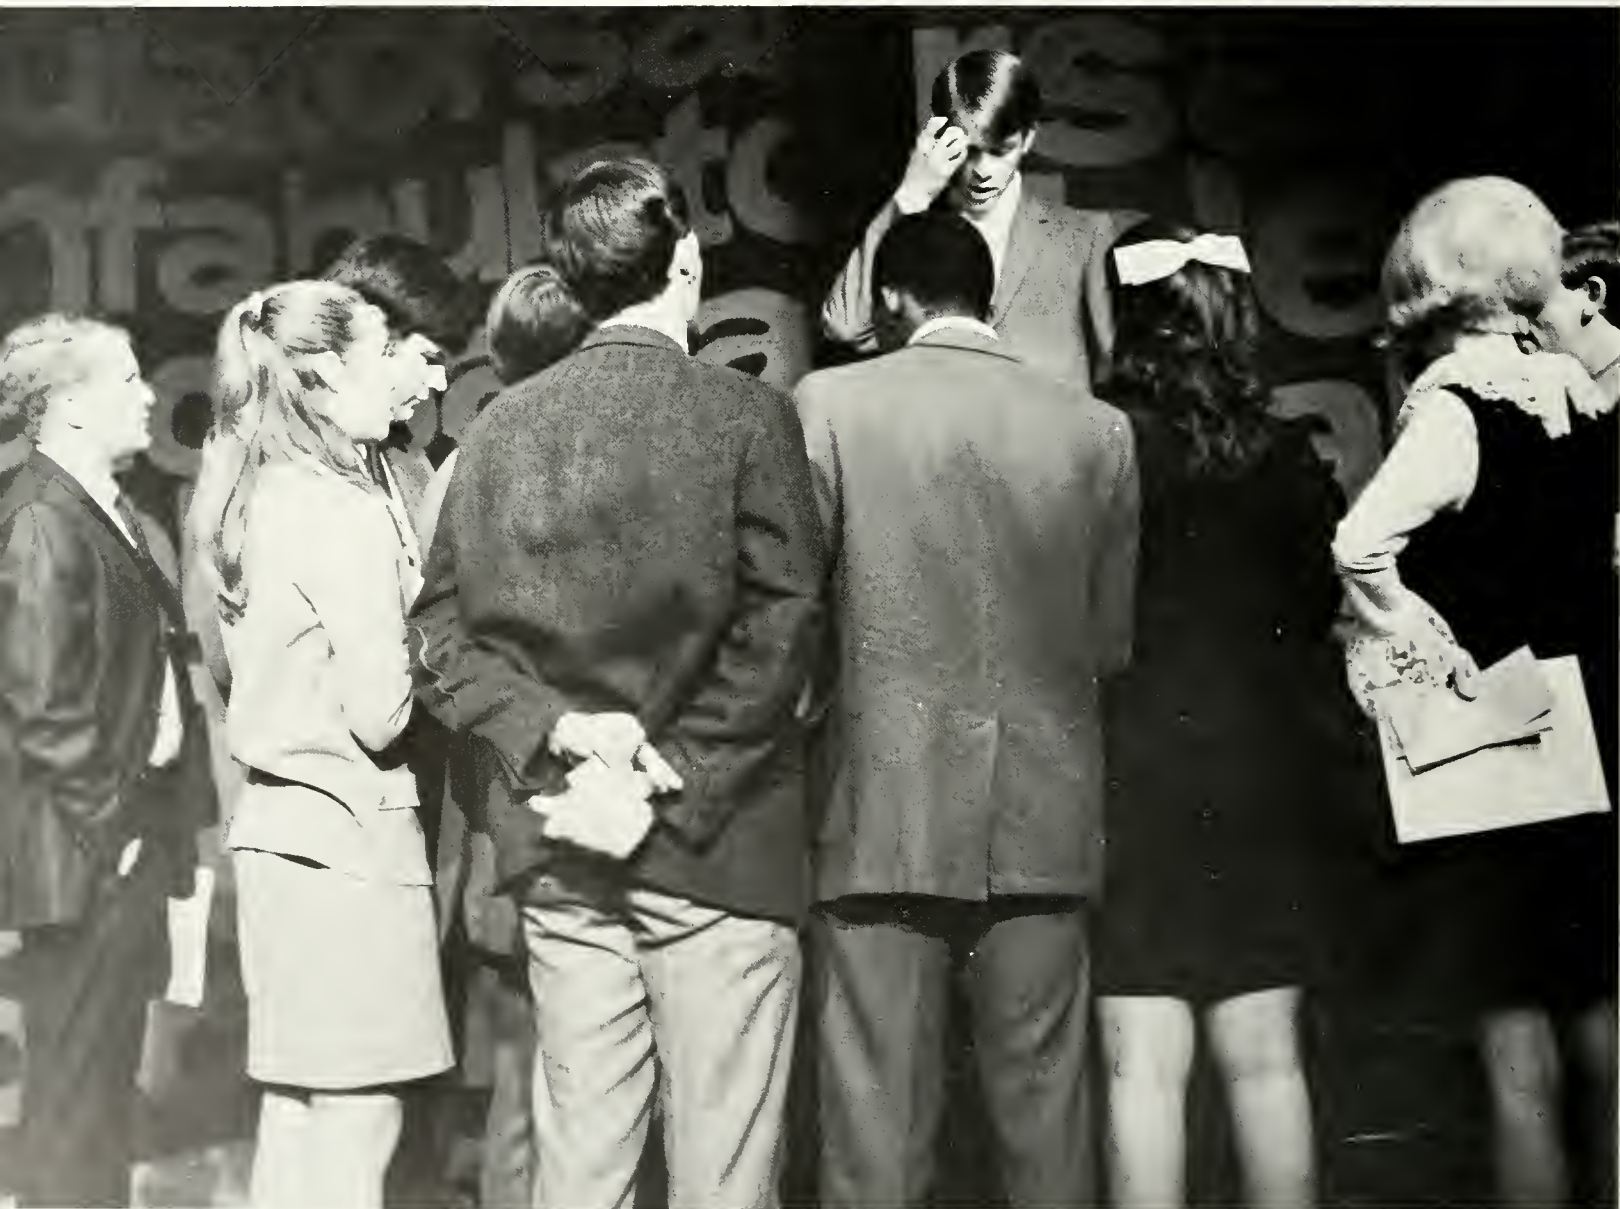

"Dandelion Wine," a readers' theatre adaptation from Ray Bradbury's novel by the same name, fills the second part.

The story is about a boy who finds himself in a world of discovery where miracles become everyday happenings and the supernatural enters into ordinary events.

Narrators are Cliff Turknett, Laura Graf, Diana Block and Ronnie Love.

Other performers are Gary Flanagan, Marvin Arhleger, Martha Cunningham, Arte Foster, Belinda Turn and Bob Taylor.

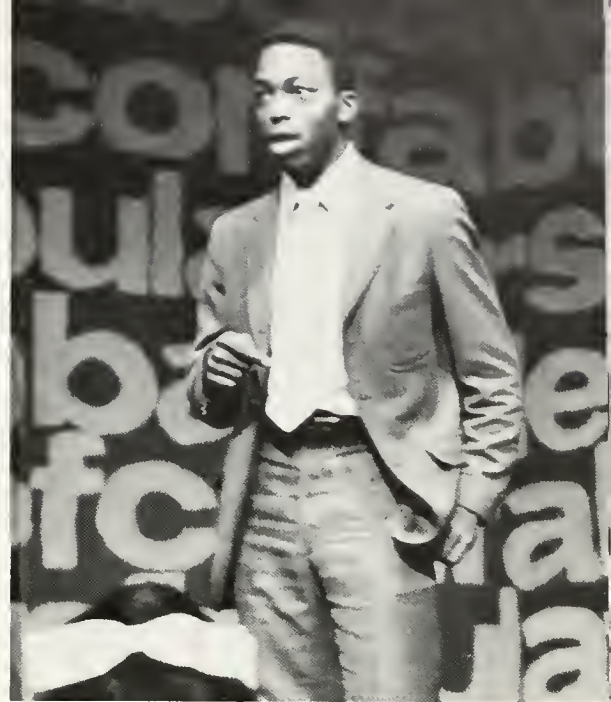

Gary Flanagan, debate coach, joined by other students displays the general confusion encountered when arriving at a tournament.

Delivering a humorous speech is FRED MOORE who has been seen before on many stages.

Aside from his work as a member of various casts, Fred is noted as a handy backstage man.

'Dandelion Wine' Presentation Reveals Life of Douglas Spaulding

Cliff Turknett with the aid of Laura Graf guide the audience during the readers' theatre which tells of Spaulding.

Readers' theatre, commonly called "theatre of the mind," entails little or no physical action in the performance.

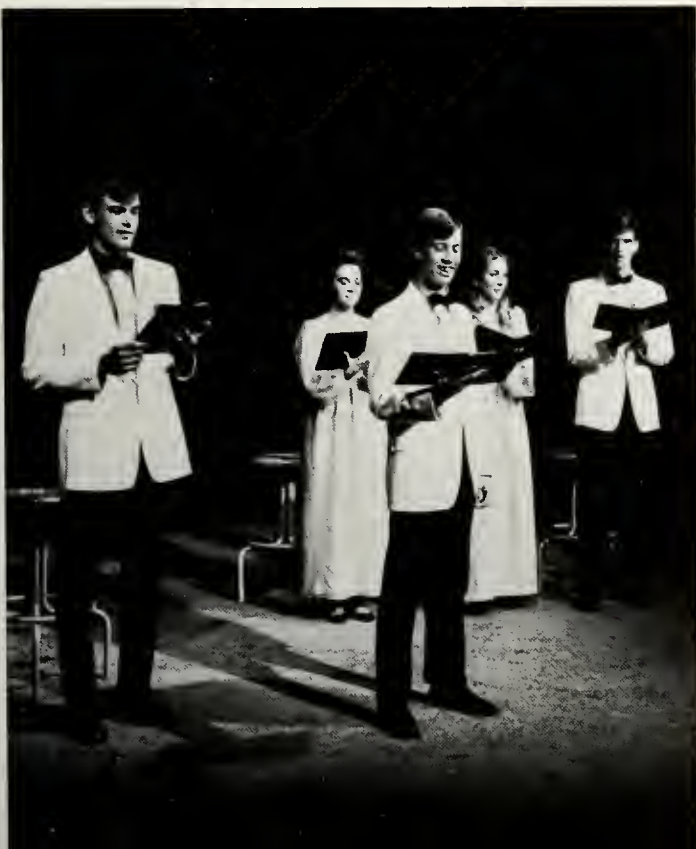

One of several such performances during the season, "Dandelion Wine" places total emphasis on verbal production.

Laura Graf and Cliff Turknett join with other cast members in providing the conclusion to "A Babble of Confabulators."

Experimental Project Makes Unique Show

Originating in a co-curricular actors' workshop, the production of MOTHER COURAGE is an experimental project.

Through a long process of trial and error, the script was derived and students learned the theories of dramatic art.

The play is set during the Thirty Years' War. Scenes take place in Sweden, Poland, Moravia, Bavaria, Italy and elsewhere as Mother Courage peddles supplies to men on the battlefield of central Europe, encountering many problems along the way.

Director and designer of the production is Raymond Carver, head of the Fine Arts Department.

The cast includes some 24 characters with Karen Pearson having the lead role.

Mother Courage comforts her muted daughter, Kattrin (Susan Coleman), in trying times.

Swedish Commander (Jim Laster) hears foul words from Mother Courage when wanting Eilif (Craig Torrence) to join the army.

Mother Courage, the lead role, is played by KAREN PEASON.

Karen with three years past acting experience has participated in such performances as Romeo and Juliet, "My Turn Again" and "A Babble of Confabulators." She is also handy backstage.

Camp-following prostitute Yvette Pottier (Laura Graf) reveals her life to Kattrin and Mother Courage.

Chaplain (James Buchanan) converses with Mother Courage about timely happenings as he travels with her and her family.

Aid is offered by the clan to the victim of a burning house.

Preparations Progress Backstage

Holly Nutt, makeup technician, ages Karen Pearson by more than 20 years before each performance in a process which takes an hour.

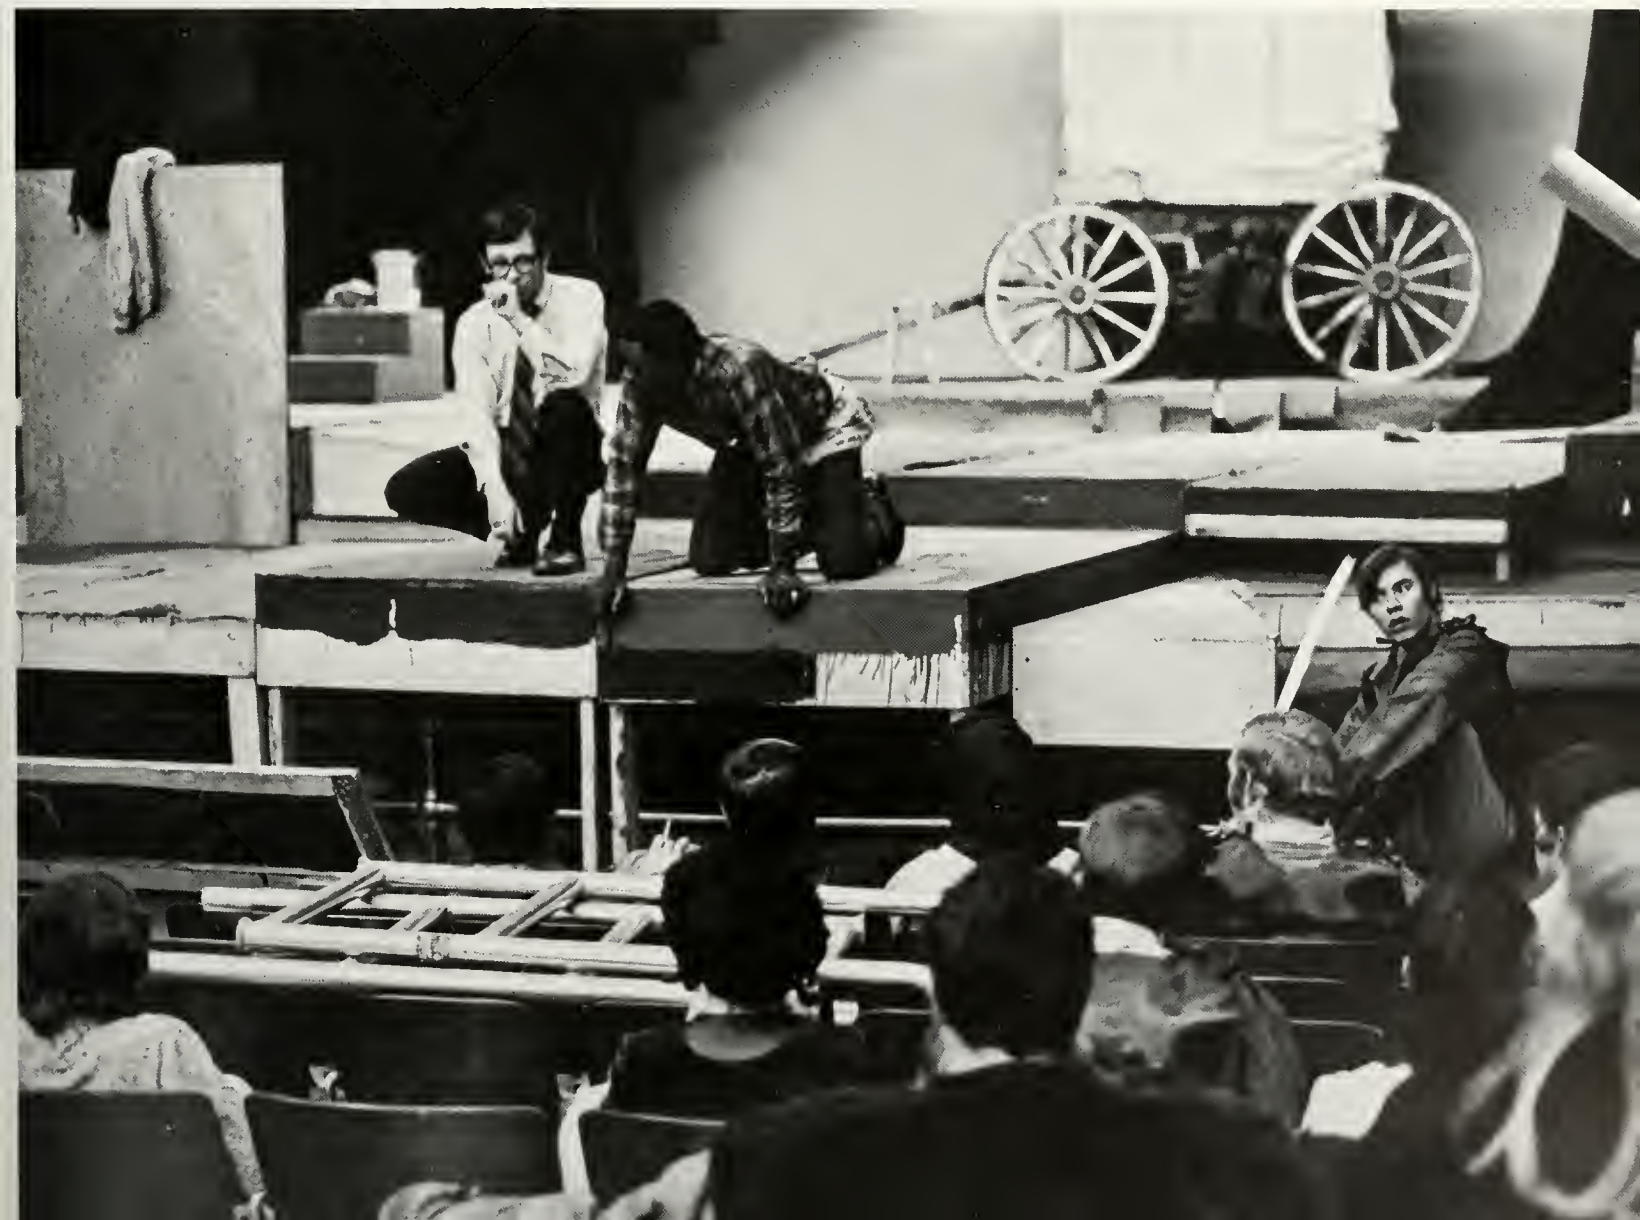

Final touches are given to Mother Courage's face by the show director.

Marvin Arhelger prepares his face for that of his role as a rugged young man.

Raymond Carver and Fred Moore consult other staff and cast members while building the set for production in the main auditorium.

Parades, Concerts Keep Band Members Busy

Parades, games, concerts and Band Day are among the common concerns shared by members of the GOLDEN RAM BAND.

Comprised of some 53 students and directed by Eddie Pace, the group also has an annual band tour to look forward to each spring.

The two-day tour this year takes them down the San Antonio and Austin way with four playing engagements.

The fall and winter keeps all busy with two or three local parades and concerts, all home and two football games away at which they perform, and their Band Day activities.

Some 12 bands from surrounding high schools take part this year in competition set to encourage incoming freshmen to join the Ram band.

Kappa Kappa Psi, the band fraternity, and Tau Beta Sigma, sorority, work through and for the band as separate yet coordinating groups. Their basic concern is in doing services for the band as a whole.

A special knack of talent is provided by Johnny Carlson as he blows into his French horn.

Ram band member, Randy Williamson, manipulates trumpet and music holder.

Freshman, Vicki Clifton, grabs a breath while practicing her French horn.

Lana Kennedy twirls flames at halftime.

University president, Lloyd Vincent, presents Class B Band Day winner, Bronte, with trophy for precision marching and playing abilities.

Early morning practice tests a marcher's awakesness as he pivots and goes into formation during daily routines.

Eddie Pace directs the Golden Ram Band as they boost the Rams during all home games.

Snare and bass require precise accuracy.

BRASS SECTION: L. to R.: Ted Caffey, Ronnie DeLong, Debby Graves, Sam Robbins, Ernest Gill, Gary Murphy, Jim Nevins, Floyd DePauw, Patti Tolle, Earlie Rose, Stan Love, Ronnie McKay, Curtis

Jenkins, Zeke Ramirez, Armando Menchaca, Randy Haire, Charlie Abel, Linda Whiteker, Joe Jacobo, George Ybarra, Roy Martinez.

Twirlers and drum major, Ted Caffey, practice drills for games and parades.

WOODWIND SECTION: L. to R.: Danny Jayme, Glen Burleson, Philip Foster, Daniel Anderson, Sunny Bryan, Rea Dunivan, Norma Parry, Deborah Moore, Kenneth Thompson, Brenda Pounds, Nelda Thompson, Sally King, Jeanette Nelson, Johnny Hasty, Richard Bruce, Carol Flury, Glenda Smith, Fred Rogge, Jimmy Clarke, Dianne Bachman, Bonnie Amos, Sharon Cunningham, Iris Chaney, Dana Lowe.

Freshman look a bit "messed up" at the Homecoming bonfire and rally following initiation of all first-year band members.

Alpha Psi Omega Holds Show— 'My Turn Again' as Season Opener

Larry Matson spoofs Larry McElwee, dean of students, into getting high on grass in skit Madrigal for Militants.

Brenda Browne's elbow plows into Richard Fry as excitement envelopes her while watching a cartoon during an extracurricular activities skit which views them at a sexy foreign movie.

Craig Torrence marches on after the rest of the "My Turn Again" marching band has retired offstage for a brief break.

Light-hearted gaiety and zesty momentum, tinged with a flick of mischievous satire and overall musically enhanced, "MY TURN AGAIN" makes its showing during the week of fall registration on the Angelo State campus.

The autumn review of the Fine Arts hit drama production, "My Turn Now" was compiled, created and produced by members of the ASU DELTA RHO chapter of the ALPHA PSI OMEGA DRAMA FRATERNITY and the Fine Arts faculty members. Part of the text is a breakdown from various humorous and satirical publications.

The whole idea of the performance is centered around giving each person his turn to show his talent by rotating the cast at each showing.

Scenes from the show range from a grand campus tour via a colorful film preview to a musical march during "Instant Commencement." A Graffiti Board filled with witty quotes and quips by the group comes before intermission and the production ends with a grand musical finale.

"My Turn Now" made its hit during the summer earning over $1,000 for the Alpha Psi Omega scholarship fund.

This year some 12 Angelo State Fine Arts students benefit from the foundation.

HOLLY NUTT, graduate and inactive Alpha Psi Omega member, finds herself talking the turn of director during the entire fall review.

The petite, bouncing blond is skilled in the field of acting having been in Brigadoon, Roman Comedy and The Physicist, to name a few.

Currently Holly is public services representative for the Fine Arts Department.

James Buchanan assists Larry Matson as he pours Jeannie West out causing gurgley noises during a sounds exposition.

Kaye McDougall sings out as Jeannie West, Cliff Turknett and Karen Pearson give the coed her turn.

Marilyn Sparks and James Buchanan are a little upset about the world coming to an end during the show.

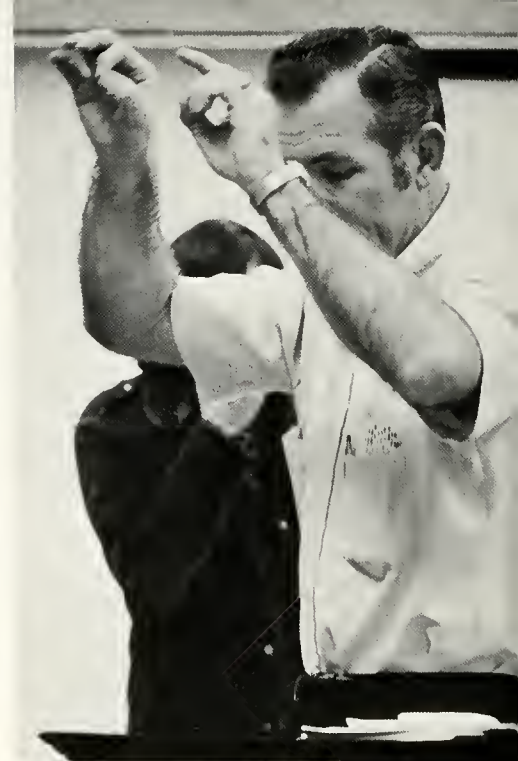

Laura Graf and Karen Pearson seem to be debating over exactly whose turn it is to perform onstage.

With the help of a slow shutter speed, some of the action is caught during "Do Gooder" sung by Susan Coleman.

Barbara Tubbs gives a look of dismay while in practice for spring choral events.

ELDON BLACK, associate professor of music, guides 33 chorus members during routine rehearsals for performances.

L. to R., First row: Bob Taylor, Patricia Bir, Diane Deatherage, John Rosson. Second row: Fred Leggett, Glenn Johnson, Leonard Powell, Richard Gwyn, Bruce Hill. Third row: Jenean Young, Brenda Moore, Albert Titus, Barbara Tubbs, Harlan Brunson, Jo Smith, Brenda Mornes,

Choir Performs In Local Area

Presenting a spring concert consisting of classical, semi-classical and light pop music is one of the performances partaken by the ANGELO STATE CHOIR.

Under the direction of Eldon Black, associate professor and coordinator of the university's music division, the group also joins with the San Angelo Symphony and Symphony Chorale. With these two, the group performed Beethoven's Symphony Number Nine—the Choral Symphony.

Jenine Young, George Williams, Becky Simcik, Linda Hahn, Jimmie Lynch, Fred Moore and Leonard Powell are officers and special chairmen.

Bob Cathers, Richard Gwyn and Fred Leggett, like the rest of the group, apply many hours of vocalizing before each performance.

Stories Enchant Youths As Dramatics Class Gives Children's Show

Enchanting an audience of children, mothers, and other admirers of Hans Christian Anderson, the Creative Dramatics Class under the direction of James Garrett presents stories adapted from the noted author.

The show, a collection of playlets adapted from fairy tales by Anderson, include "Thumbelina," "The Princess and the Pea," "The Nightingale," "Hans Clodhopper," "Great Claus and Little Claus", and "Elfin Mount."

In "Hans Clodhopper," Hans (Craig Torrence) reveals the importance of the elements to brothers (Cliff Turknett and James Buchanan).

The emperor of China (Cliff Turknnett) gives orders to his cavalier (James Buchanan) to find his little lost singing bird in Anderson's children's story, "The Nightingale," one of the eight playlets given during three performances.

Rosella (Marilyn Sparks) turns on her charm only to find herself outdone in an attempt to impress the royal family and become the new princess in the tale, "The Princess and the Pea."

Brothers (Cliff Turknett) and (James Buchanan) enhance their intelligence while Hans (Craig Torrence) stumbles along on their way to see the king in hopes for a place on the royal throne in "Hans Clodhopper."

Marsupalia (Linda Chesnut) vies for princess in "The Princess and the Pea."

An artifical bird (Kaye McDougall) is being repaired by (Bobby Rutherford) as the thrush attempts to replace the real "Nightingale" and please the emperor of China.

CRAIG TORRENCE, sophomore, takes an active role in "STORYBOOK THEATRE" as he plays the roles of a prince, a boy, an old man, a hobgoblin chief, a prime minister and others in the various stories told.

He has also casted in "My Turn Again," Romeo and Juliet and "Mother Courage."

The wife (Kaye McDougall) of the old man (Craig Torrence) feels that her "old man is always right" even if he trades down a horse for eventually a bag of rotten apples.

Hans Clodhopper may not be the most brilliant and outgoing of the three brothers, but it is his wit and ingenuity which wins the heart of the princess in this old tale which charms an audience of youngsters.

Forensics Squad Finds Meets Vital in Gaining Speech Skills

Out on a snowy day. Andy Kever, Rachel Harris and Marvin Schultz hoist trophies earned in the Colorado Springs Speech Tournament.

Ronnie Love, Paul Harzke, Pat Turner, Gary Flanagan and Diana Block make plans for the annual summer speech and drama workshop as well as inspecting trophies for the occasion.

Experience through competition in speech tournaments is gained by DELTA ALPHA SIGMA members.

As a forensics squad, the group has won trophies in all individual areas which include oratory, interpretation of prose and poetry, extemporaneous, impromptu and after-dinner speaking.

In debate, club members have reached the elimination rounds and have been included in the Top Ten Debater List.

Giving programs for civic groups and affiliating with Pi Kappa Delta, an honorary forensics fraternity, are club projects.

Student members also serve as judges at area speech contests, including district University of Interscholastic League debates. The annual ASU Summer Speech and Drama Workshop for high school students is hosted by Delta Alpha Sigma.

President Andy Kever and vice-president Marvin Schultz guide the activities with assistance from Miss Helen Schafer, sponsor.

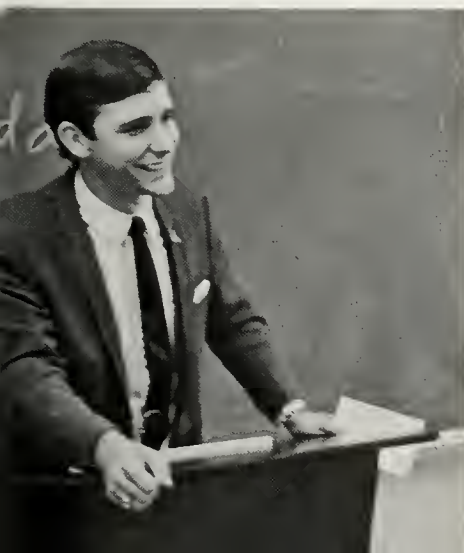

Social chairman Ronnie Love, reporter Gary Flanagan, and secretary-treasurer Diana Block round out the list of officers.

Receiving excellent and superior ratings in their first tournament situation are Fred Moore, Martha Jordan and Bob Taylor.

Carl Dodd, like all others, finds trial debating a must in preparing for meets.

With the outcome of ASU being named an outstanding participant in the Texas Tech meet, Jeannie West, James Buchanan, Karen Pearson and Cliff Turknett take a breather.

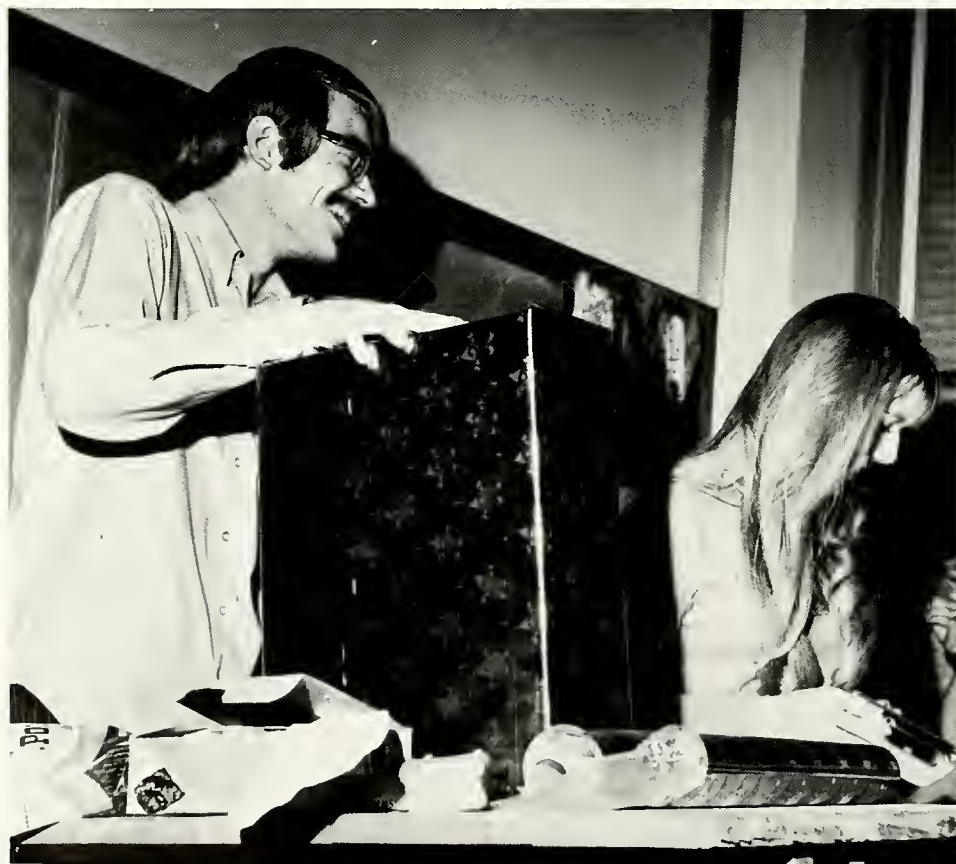

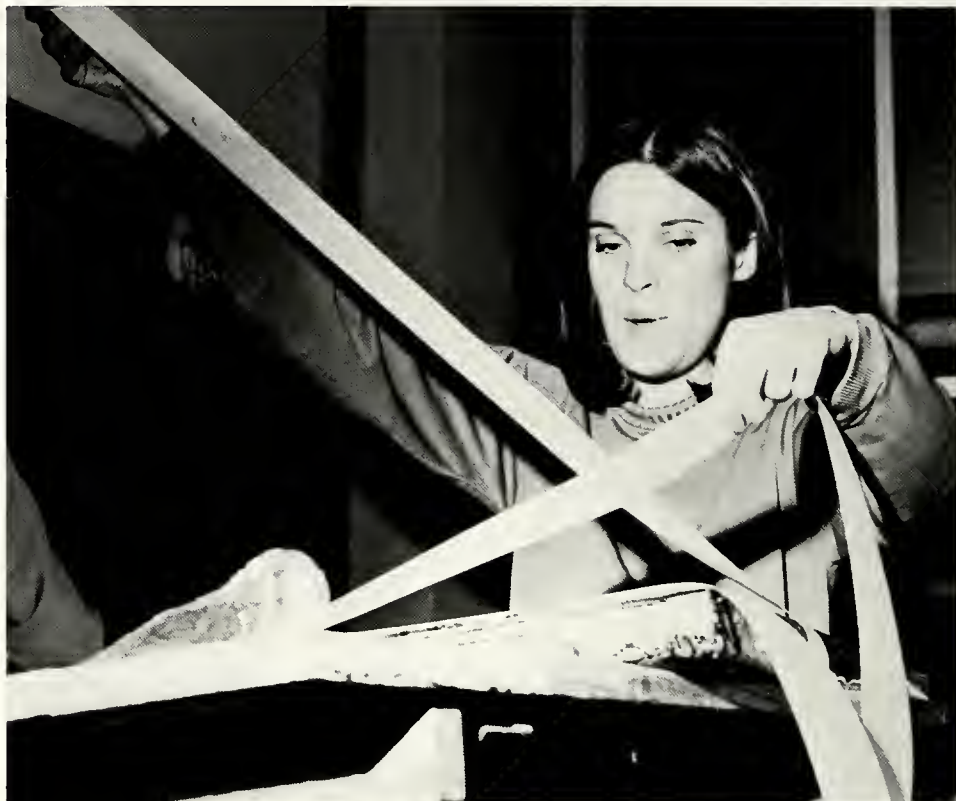

Decorations for Mistletoe Ball Designed by Creative Arts Club

Creativeness is the key to the on-campus ART CLUB here. Combined talents of young art majors and interested persons join in presenting monthly art exhibits—works of members as well as other noted artists—in the Student Center. This year the group is also in charge of decorations for the Mistletoe Ball.

Officers are Alex Inman, president; Jimmie Sue Johnston, vice-president; Sarah Montgomery, secretary; Lois Crownover, treasurer; and Cathie Clemens, reporter. Sponsor is Tincie Heddins, art professor.

Cathie Clemens finishes a package with ribbon, while Sarah Montgomery helps Alex Inman complete one of the 100 dummy Christmas packages to be placed under a flocked tree as decorations for the Mistletoe Ball. Perry Henderson, Larry Jones, Jimmie Sue Johnston, and Sarah Montgomery are in charge of preparations for the ball.

Mrs. Tincie Heddins points out principles of color and design.

Sarah Montgomery expresses creativity in charcoal drawing.

L. to R., First row: Billy Green, Pat Hoelscher, Cathy Grief, Leoma Lasater, Rita Davis, Sarah Montgomery, Nancy Dendle. Second row: Janet Richardson, Larry Jones, Cathie Clemens, Perry Henderson, Jimmie Johnston, Eddie Flores, Alex Inman.

Roy Baker Three Return To Net Squad Record

ROY BAKER one of the Rams to break Lone Star Conference records in this young season, may be a small man in size, but he has been a big man on the gridiron for Angelo State University.

Saunders 3-8 and 165 pounds, the Houston tailback carried the ball more times in a single game than any conference player has done since Arthur James of East Texas State University.

Roy carried the pigskin 37 times and gained 113 yards for the Rams in their 22-7 victory over the McMurry Indians.

"I never knew what I'd done until it was explained," Roy said of his addition to the LSC record book.

Roy has carried the ball 80 times in four games for a total of 242 net yards gained rushing.

Angelo State's tennis team, coached by Buddy Horne, has three of last year's top four players returning.

Charles Williams, the number one singles player last year, is returning.

Broomie, Tommy McCulloch and Harrison Rector were the number two, three and four players last year.

David Harrison and Neil McClung are the two new tennis players this year.

Harrison, a junior college All-American, was defeated in the semifinals of the National Junior College Tournament last year.

McClung is a freshman from Angelo State High School. Coach Harrison said he felt that McClung will be a fine tennis player.

Clung was the two new tennis players this year.

Rams Move

By BARBARA BIGARD
San Jose Sports Writer

SIX victories out of the last eight games have given Coach Phil George and his Angelo State basketball team a 7-1 conference record, which puts them in sole possession of fourth place in the Lone Star Conference race.

ASU is 9-12 for the season. There are five conference games left.

Jan 17 was the night Sul Ross topped the Rams 89-78. McMurry's three-game road stand ended in a 78-70 win Jan. 28 when the Angelo team came home to a 78-70 victory over the Mustangs.

Commenting on this winning streak, Coach George said the team is "moving toward their 1970 debut in Feb. 28."

Returning from last year's team who specializes in the 440 and 120-high hurdles, the Rams finished second in the 440 and third in the 120 at the Lone Star Conference meet last spring.

The other seven members of the team are all freshmen. Alexander, Amarillo, and a 440 hurdles specialist, San Angelo, is a 2620 yard jumper in the 100.

Ram Club Elects

Monday night, Pride '69 will invade Lawton, Okla. for the second time this year, but for a basketball contest this time. The Cameron squad is experienced and the game should be a "toss" according to Coach George.

The next home game for the Rams will be Dec. 13 when LSC play begins against McMurry.

The crowds at Ram football are larger than ever before this year as the Pride '69 squad provides much to cheer about. Some of the individual plays that set records as well as they those that arouse the crowds could be in the record books for quite some time. Freshman Back Jerry Austin racked up the longest run from scrimmage with a tally of 55 yards against TLC. The longest field goal in Ram history as a four-year institution was set by Kenny Newman from 45 yards out against McMurry. Barefoot kicker Bill DeMent produced the longest punt with a 72 yard effort against Sul Ross.

Spirit at the final game of the year, ASU vs. ACC, is boosted by the Ram band.

Teaff Uses 'Pride' To Assist Team

After one year of Lone Star Conference football, the Angelo State Rams have a winning season and the majority of the starters returning, as only four seniors graduated. With the indication of several excellent recruits for next season, Coach Grant Teaff can anticipate a growing football program and more support from college students and area fans. Teaff attributes "PRIDE" to be the basic ingredient for the rise in Ram football popularity.

ASU Completes 11-15 Season

Rams achieve a 9-9 conference record in the 1969-70 season.

David Smart finds himself flat on the court during the Tarleton game in which the Rams gathered 60 team rebounds.

In the 1969-70 BASKETBALL season, the Rams finished in fourth place in the Lone Star Conference. This rank is achieved with a 9-9 conference record and a 11-15 season record. Six of the losses are to teams that finished in the top ten NAIA national rankings. In first place is Stephen F. Austin, followed by Howard Payne College in third place, and St. Mary's University in ninth place.

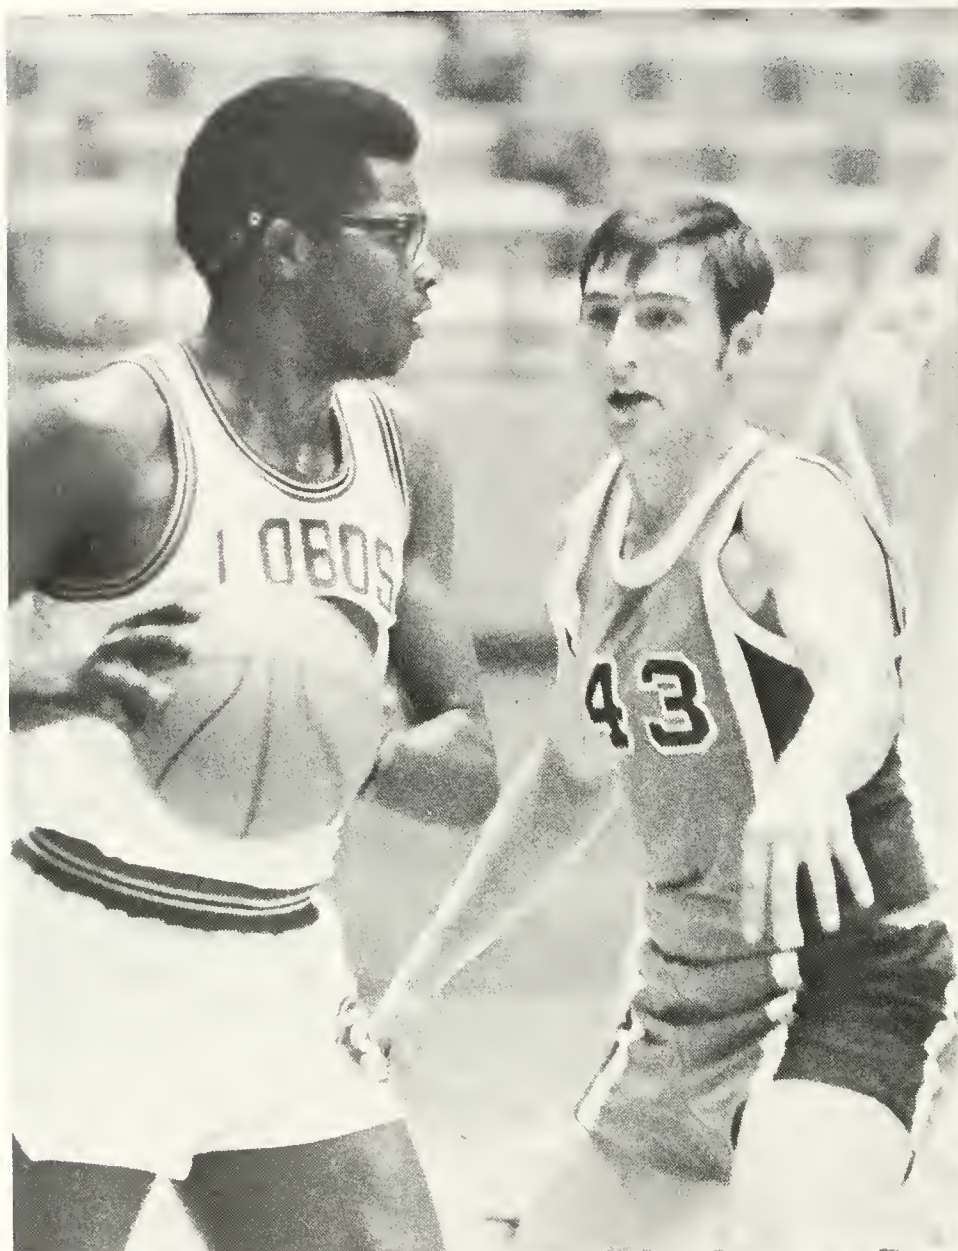

Head Coach Phil George finishes the season with fourteen of his roundballers playing in at least seven games and eleven members playing in at least twenty of the twenty-six contests.

Three juniors, two sophomores, and two freshmen who saw considerable action this year will be returning. Although this is the Ram team's first year in competition for the Lone Star conference championship, it manages to gain a share of fourth place in the league.

Some of the highlights for this year's campaign include four conference wins on the road, playing the national champs on the Lumberjacks home court (73-60), and gathering in 60 team rebounds in a single game against Tarleton State.

Two other season bests for the team include a high point total of 95 against Texas A&I while allowing only 58 points to be scored against them by Abilene Christian College.

Prather Leads Team Offense

Rams' leading scorer Prather (43) also plays defense—here against Sul Ross.

Senior roundballer from Lubbock LAURIN PRATHER leads the Rams on offense. He completed 166 of 299 shots attempted from the floor for a 54.8% average. Behind the field goals, he completed 97 of 136 free throws for a 71.3% average and an overall total of 429 points for the year. This adds up to a 16.5 points per game average. Following him in order of points scored are Willie Hill with 381, Johnny Spriggs with 280, Eddie Escamilla with 198, Jerry Pierce with 173, and John Kubinsky with 133.

Prather, Hill, Escamilla, and Pierce are seniors, while Spriggs is a sophomore and Kubinsky is a freshman.

Prather has the highest single game total for the season against Midwestern with 35 points. Besides Midwestern, Prather has high-point man honors against Cameron State (21), Howard Payne (30), Sam Houston State (24), Southwest Texas State (24), Stephen F. Austin (16), East Texas State (22), and Tarleton State (22).

Prather also leads the team in assists with 75 for the season. He is followed by Hill (51), Escamilla (41), and Spriggs (41).

Even off the boards Prather (43) is tough on defense.

Hill Dominates Ram Defense

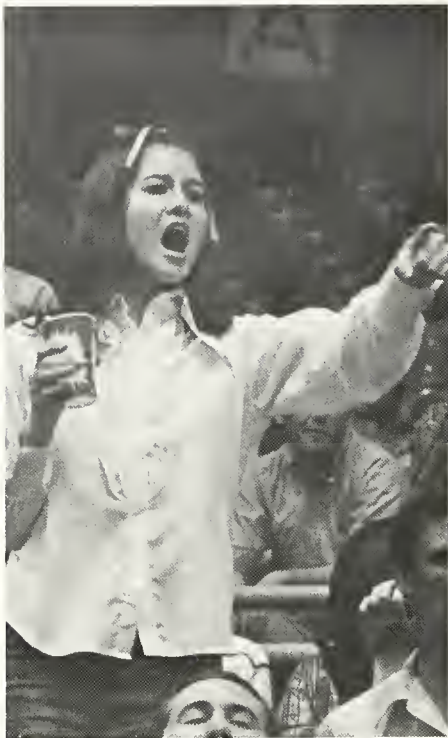

Hill shoots over Texans for two points.

WILLIE HILL, a 6' 4" junior from Junction City, Arkansas, leads the 1969-1970 defensive statistics with an average of 8.8 rebounds per game and a total of 230 on the year. Along with his defensive accomplishments Hill adds an average of 14.7 points per game, second highest on the team.

Also against Sul Ross State Hill gathered in 17 rebounds, the highest single game total for any Ram Basketball player this season. The next two rebound totals for a single game include 16 for Hill against Tarleton State and 15 for John Kubinsky against Southwest Texas State. Along with his 14.7 scoring average, Hill was the high point man against St. Mary's (18), Southwest Texas State (21), UT-Arlington (15), Tarleton State (26), Howard Payne (27), Texas A&I (24), and Sul Ross (19).

The other top rebounders in order are Laurin Prather (who averaged 7.9 per game), Johnny Spriggs (5.2), and Eddie Escamilla (3.8). Dana Keesee, a sophomore transfer student who played in the last seven games averages four rebounds per game and ties for high point man with Johnny Spriggs against Sam Houston State with 12 points.

Angelettes Entertain Ram Crowds

Prather shows how he became leading scorer with a layup against Sul Ross.

Angelettes provide a pleasant background scene for halftimes.

In a very short time, the ASU ANGELETTES have become a familiar sight at Ram basketball games under the Dome. To become an Angelette is not easy, though, because they are elected on the basis of personality, poise, coordination, and grades. But just staying in the Angelettes is no easy task because each one has to practice about an hour and a half each day.

Besides basketball games, the drill team has performed at football games at home and on the road, at pep rallies, at the Air Force basketball tournament, for the March of Dimes; and they make signs for the games. The Angelettes also sponsor the Spirit Award which honors the top Ram football player of each game.

Sharron Baker leads A-N-G-E-L-O spellout.

Dixiecats Provide Halftime Music

The DIXIECATS provide music for the Ramdome basketball games. Headed by Mr. Eddie Pace, the group plays jazz and Dixieland music for halftime and pre-game drills. According to one of the members, most of the music is completely out of print, but the crowd loves it.

In addition to basketball games, the stage band plays for other civic groups. This year's activities include a performance for the West Texas Therapy Center Charity Ball. Perhaps a better-known tradition is that the Dixiecats have appeared at every Miss Wool Parade since its inception.

Regulars for the group include Mike Barron on trombone, Charlie Abel on second trumpet, Jack Pool on drums, Ronnie McKay on tuba, Kenneth Thompson on clarinet, and Eddie Pace on trumpet.

Trombone provides a lot of action on the stage.

Three Frosh, Three Sophs Make Team

1970 is only the second for ASU to field a TENNIS TEAM since the school was a junior college. Last year in their first season of competition against Lone Star Conference foes, the Rams placed second in the conference tournament. East Texas State is the only team to upset them. This season the Ram netters face four teams at home including East Texas State, Texas Wesleyan, Tarleton State, and UT-Arlington. On April 10 ASU holds its invitational tournament at the Swim and Racquet Club, which is also the site of their practice sessions and meets at home. On the road this year ASU will be up against Baylor, UT-Arlington, Hardin-Simmons, Abilene Christian, East Texas State, and North Texas State. The Lone Star Conference Tournament will be held in Alpine at Sul Ross.

When the Ram tennis players are not playing out of town, practice sessions at the Swim and Racquet start at 2:00 p.m. and last till after 5:00. On Saturdays the sessions start at 9:30 a.m. All this indicates sixteen or more hours of practice per week. The man who gets the team out on the courts is Coach Paul Horne.

McCulloch keeps his eye on the ball as he serves.

Seven Tracksters on ASU Squad

L. to R., First row: Scott Pruett, Mac Rowlette, Sterling Alexander. Second row: Manager Tommy Stephens, Steve Langebartel, Dale Lewis, Morris Overstreet, Ray Lozano, Coach William Lane.

Passing the baton is a very important part of the mile-relay event.

The 1970 TRACK SQUAD got off to an early start with Morris "Snake" Overstreet capturing first place in the 120 high hurdles at the Southwest Recreation Track Meet in Fort Worth with a time of 14.5 seconds. This is the first meet of the track season for the Ram cinderman. Others members of the team and their respective events are: Sterling Alexander—440; Steve Langbartel—880, Dale Lewis—880, mile; Ray Lozano—440; Mac Rowlette—Shot, Discus; Scott Pruett—440. Three of the seven members are freshmen. The contest schedule for this season contains meets with Howard Payne College, McMurry College, and many other teams in the Lone Star Conference. Besides their own conference, the Rams will be competing against trackmen from the Southwest Conference.

Golfers Vie for LSC Crown

L. to R., First Row: Eddie Burkett, Ronnie Broadrick, Con Hartman. Second row: Wade Daugherty, Tommy Hayes, Larry Ricci, Coach Wade Turner.

Coach Wade Turner and his 1970 Angelo State GOLFERS open their season with victories over Hardin-Simmons, Sul Ross, and Abilene Christian College. This year Turner and his six-man squad are competing against all their Lone Star Conference foes as well as top-ranked national teams like the University of Houston and the University of Texas at Austin, both of whom have won national NCAA titles in recent years. The University of Houston won it last year.

There are two juniors, two sophomores, and two freshmen on the squad, giving the Rams a lot of balance and a look toward the future as well as putting them in contention for the present.

Following through without moving his head, Ronnie Broadrick completes his shot.

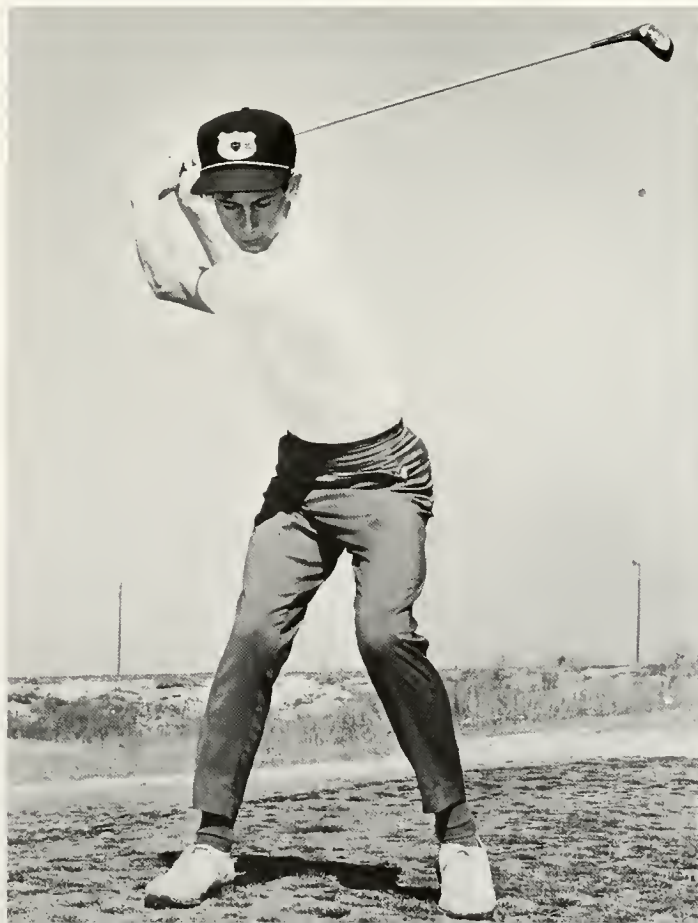

Wade Daugherty putts for the flag on hole number one.

Larry Ricci lines up his putt with intense concentration.

Con Hartman prepares to tee off.

Men's Intramurals Grow in '70

Basketball team reviews strategy under the basket.

The Angelo State University INTRAMURAL SPORTS PROGRAM FOR MEN is provided to enable any man on campus to participate in organized sports of some kind. Categories of sports available include flag football, basketball, and softball. In the flag football program there are over 200 men participating. More than 150 individuals enter the basketball session, and more than 150 participate in the softball program.

In football the championship is determined by a playoff slate between the top four teams. Each team is eliminated after two losses in the finals. In this manner, the Ragnotts won the 1970 intramural football championship. Similar playoff slates are used in the other areas of basketball and baseball also.

Directed by Max A. Bumgardner, the intramural program has expanded rapidly and is expected to grow even more rapidly in the future. The way the program is being operated now, any number of teams can enter the competition with the Physical Education Department furnishing officials for the games when possible and the teams providing them if not. Intramural sports involves many more students than varsity sports and stimulates a great deal of interest for students who would otherwise be left out.

Intramural sports are as rough as varsity games.

Tight offensive play is not uncommon.

Dorothy McDonald, all-star forward, shoots while Madeline Smith blocks and Connie Ricks sets for rebounding.

Margo Edwards is a member of one of the five teams playing.

Margo Edwards, forward, and Linda Weishuhn, guard, both Wall freshmen, battle for the ball at a Wednesday night game in the fall term.

Coeds Partake In Intramurals Each Semester

The WOMEN'S INTRAMURAL SPORTS PROGRAM is open to all women of the University. It is under the direction of Dr. Jewell Pye who coordinates the activities. She is assisted by other women staff members in conducting the program.

The activities provide competition in individuals and organized team sports. Activities for the women includes basketball during the fall semester and volleyball, tennis, and badminton played in the spring.

The Women's Recreation Association serves as the intramural planning group and the members elect individuals to serve as directors of the various sports.

Referees of basketball are members chosen from the officiating class, a part of the P.E. curriculum.

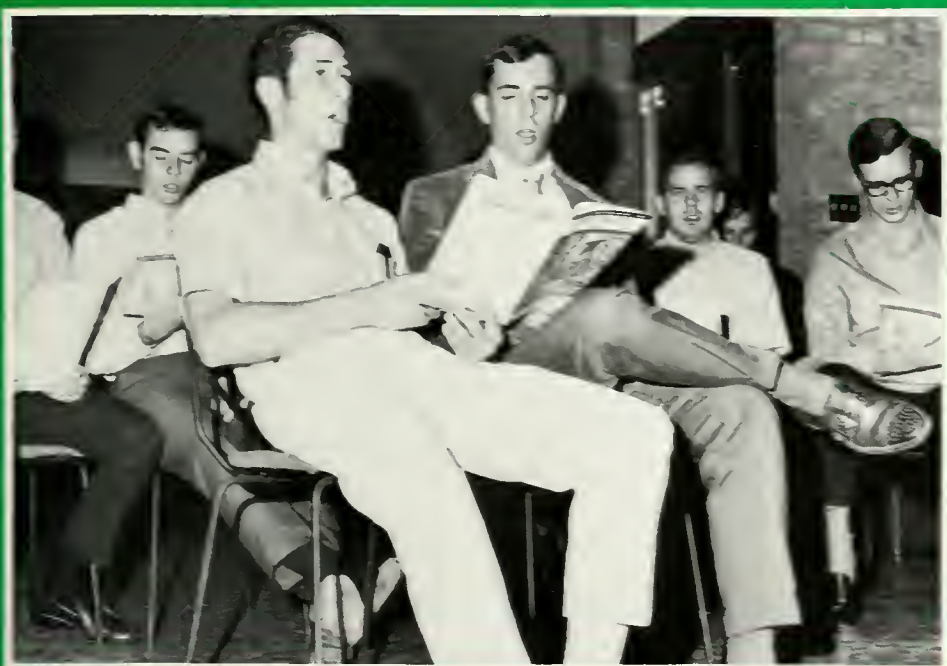

Women who are not members of this organization may participate in the intramural program.

A round-robin tournament is held in the spring for volleyballers.

In the tournament, each team plays two games and the winning team's name is placed on the intramural's winning plaque.

Thirty-Four Upperclassmen Named To Who's Who Among Students In American Universities, Colleges

Late October saw the announcement of the thirty-four upperclassmen honored to appear in the 1970 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES.

The students are first nominated by their respective major departments. The prospects are then evaluated on the basis of their academic standing, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential by a committee composed of members of the administration and faculty.

Dean Sid Stevenson heads the committee whose members also include Dean William O'Zee, Dean Maxine Brown, Dr. Bernie Young, Mrs. Maxine Henthorn, and Prentiss Windsor.

Then the field is narrowed to ASU's quota of thirty-four. The biographical information on each candidate is then forwarded to the national offices of WHO'S WHO AMONG STU-DENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES for final approval and also to the Student Placement Office maintained by the organization to assist in making recommendations and employment contacts.

In addition, the students are recognized at the annual spring Honors Program and receive a certificate citing their achievement.

The primary purpose of the WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES is to provide a democratic basis for the recognition of the outstanding leaders on the campuses across the nation.

Only college seniors, juniors and graduate students enrolled in four-year undergraduate institutions or graduate schools are eligible for nomination to the national organization.

Selected by the accounting department, RANDALL DOUGLAS ALDRIDGE is a senior from Ovalo.

BILLIE JEANN BATES, in the upper left hand corner, a junior from Menard, is majoring in English and is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and Alpha Mu Gamma.

Annual projects in which the club engages include selling mums and caring for the ASU ram mascot. This year, the group raised money to buy a sign for ASU and presented a Victory-barrel to the school for spirit.

Gamma Chi Sets Goal for MOD

With rush week, parties, campus and community service, and final presentation, GAMMA CHI sorority enlists its members toward social status.

Activities for 1969-70 includes a Greek and a Horoscope party plus decorating the Student Center for the homecoming dance.

Community action involves a coke bottle drive to raise money for a needy family at Christmas. Sorority members also organize a collegiate action program for the March of Dimes. In preparation for pledge presentation, the girls raise money by selling decorator candles.

For an extra project, Donna O'Neal and other Gamma Chi members sell popcorn balls.

By selling scented Christmas candles, Gamma Chi girls Susie Graham and Peggy Neill earn money for the sorority presentation on February 12.

Phi Sigma Becomes "Pikes"

Pi Kappa Alpha members prepared a Thanksgiving dinner for underprivileged families.

Gaining recognition as the ASU chapter of the national fraternity, PI KAPPA ALPHA is changed from Phi Sigma in 1969. With 28 active members, the social organization is concerned with campus and community services.

Activities for the year include homecoming preparations in which the Pikes win first place for their "Snoopy"-mounted float. Another event is a Thanksgiving dinner for underprivileged families.

In early October, the group chooses four girls, known as Pikettes, to hostess smokers. The students include Judy Campbell, Becky Callan, Cindy Crawford, and Jan Henderson.

Dedicating a flagpole to the Bradford Youth Center are Pikes Mario Castillo, Bill Ivy, and David Perry.

Lambda Chi Gets Charter

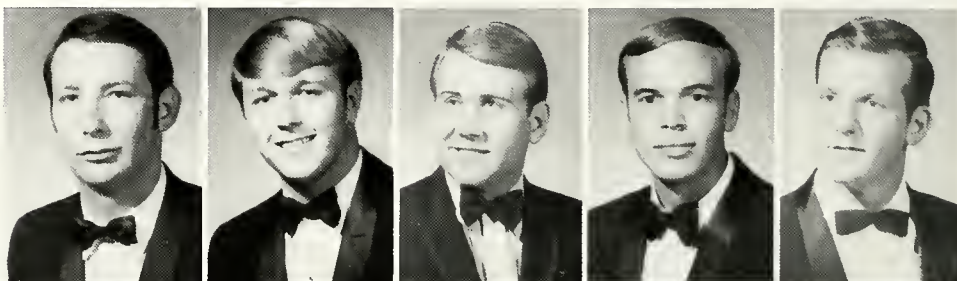

In the process of becoming a full-fledged member of the national fraternity, LAMBDA CHI ALPHA uses this project as its main activity for the year. To do so, members petition about 170 other chapters in the nation, and then buy and furnish a house for fraternity usage.

Activities for the past year include a cystic fibrosis drive for the March of Dimes and a scholarship drive entitled "Grades for Dollars". Members also help with the Boys' Ranch.

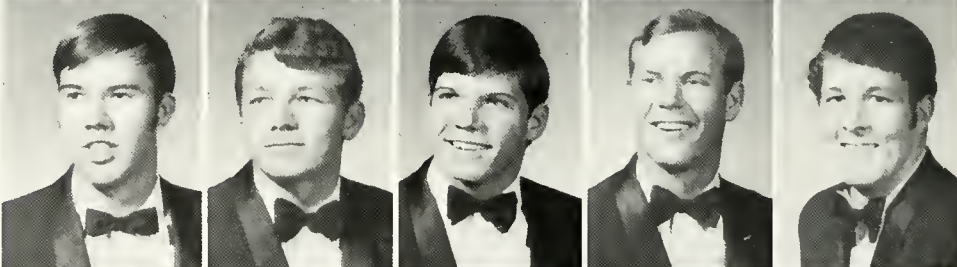

Hoeing weeds for the final touch on the new headquarters are Joe Jay Pitman and Pat Gladden.

Delta Sigma Pi Aids Business

In January, Delta Sigma Pi members honored fall pledges with a banquet.

Serving the campus with the production of the student directory each year and the sponsorship of various school activities, DELTA SIGMA PI business fraternity functions to foster the study of business in universities and colleges. It encourages scholarship, social activity, and the association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice.

To begin the school year, the fraternity sponsors a dance during Howdy Week. Other activities include intramural basketball, a trip to the Ice Capades with boys from the Boy's Ranch, and sponsoring a benefit game with the Dallas Cowboys.

Mexico Holds New Adventure

JOURNEYING TO MONTERREY, MEXICO, during the semester break twenty-seven students, faculty members and guests from Angelo State University learn that courtesy and hospitality are universal. The five-day trip is sponsored by Alpha Mu Gamma, the foreign language society on campus. It offers first-hand experience to language students and a valuable lesson on international friendship to everyone.

In addition to making new friends, the group tours several Monterrey industries. They visit a glass and crystal factory, a steel mill and a brewery. Several sightseeing tours take them to points of interest in the city, including the Garcia Caves on the outskirts of the city and the famed Horsetail Falls.

Sponsor of Alpha Mu Gamma, Mrs. Mildred Wiseman, presents letters from President Vincent to several distinguished citizens of Monterrey, including the mayor, Ing. Gerardo Torres Dias.

Johnny Lugo makes friends with two Monterrey children who greet the group as they tour the city during their five-day visit to Mexico.

Restaurants visited provide entertainment.

A group of twenty-seven journey from San Angelo to Monterrey, Mexico during break.

New friends are found as Don Ware and Debby Curtis meet a cart driver from Monterrey.

Students view a Monterrey cathedral from their hotel window.

Students relax for a moment on the Hotel Hamilton parking lot in Laredo before boarding the bus for Monterrey.

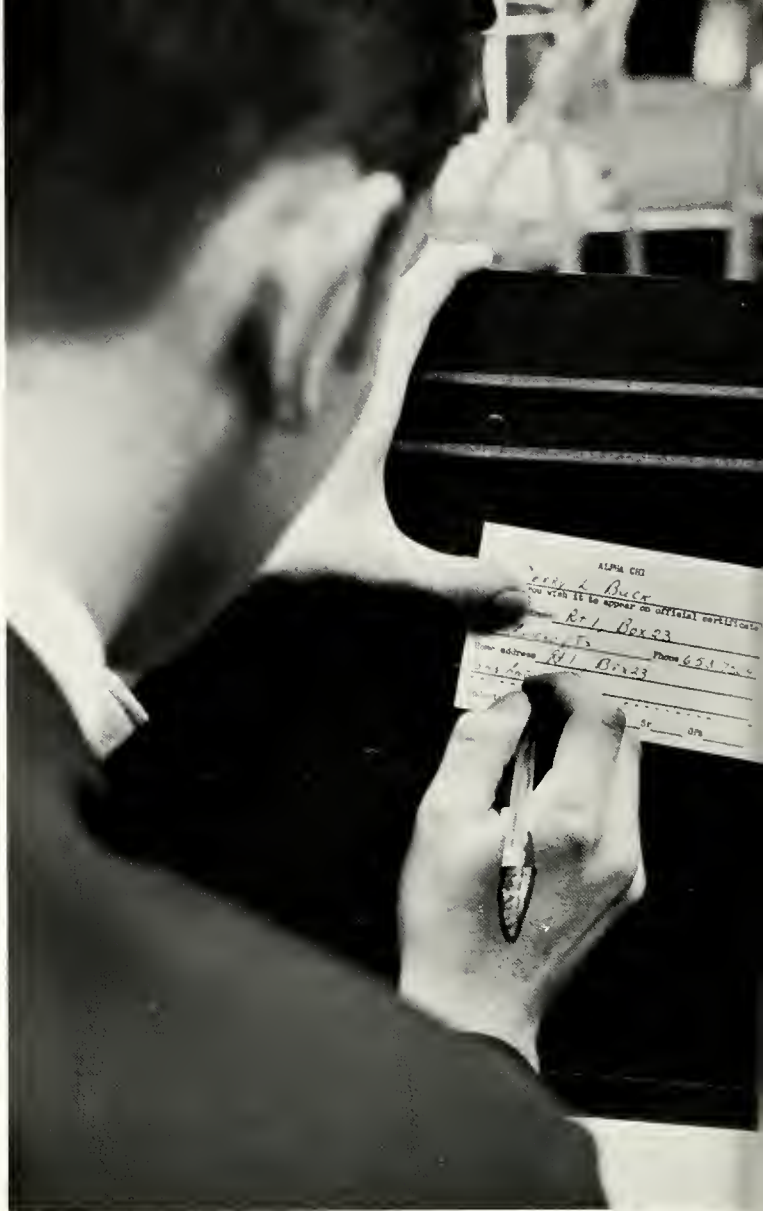

Alpha Chi Honors ASU Scholars

Being recognized as a member of ALPHA CHI is one of the highest honors which can be bestowed upon an Angelo State University student. Alpha Chi is affiliated with the National Honor Scholarship Societies. Membership consists of the upper five per cent of the junior class and the top ten per cent of the senior class. All members must have a grade point average of 3.25 or higher.

Alpha Chi holds its formal initiation during the spring. Mr. Delbert Tarter is its sponsor. Brent Tarter is the organization's president. Vice-president is Jim Ellen Adams. Frances Pietzsch is secretary of Alpha Chi and Danny Vaughn is treasurer.

Sponsor Delbert Tarter informs new members about the local chapter.

Invitations for membership were sent to 29 juniors and 18 seniors.

Sue Burroughs leads other Mortar Board members in a discussion of future projects.

Formally organized last spring, MORTAR BOARD is a group of twenty-one senior collegiate women. The organization may not exceed twenty-five selected members. Members are selected on the basis of distinguished ability and achievement in college, leadership, and service to the university.

Faculty advisors are Miss Dora Mae Kelly and Miss Mildred Drach. As president, Jim Ellen Adams guides club projects with assistance from vice-president Linda Johnston. Secretary and treasurer are Nancy Smith and Alice Schovajsa. Cheryl Turner is social chairman; Dr. Verna Mae Crutchfield sponsors the group.

Kappa Delta Pi Organizes Club

The Mu Gamma Chapter, KAPPA DELTA PI was initiated and the first officers installed in December, 1969. This is the first chapter of the nationwide education honor society to be established on the Angelo State campus. Kappa Delta Pi invites as members students who have superior scholastic achievement and display qualities needed in the field of education. It attempts to create an atmosphere of scholarship among students of education.

In the spring new members are initiated to the society, and new officers are selected.

The first president of Kappa Delta Pi is Dan Burns, and Eulabell Brewer serves as vice-president. Holding the offices of secretary and treasurer are Nola Peer and Alice Schovajsa, respectively. Linda Hoelscher represents the society as its reporter and historian. Dr. Lewis and Dr. Harrington advise the group in its activities.

Dr. Jack Harrington and Dr. Kenneth Lewis serve as co-sponsors for Kappa Delta Pi.

Phi Eta Sigma Members Provide ASU Students With Study Guides

Phi Eta Sigma distributes "How to Study" pamphlets each semester to incoming freshmen.

Phi Eta Sigma is a nationally affiliated honor society. It consists of Angelo State men who have a 3.5 or above grade point. It motivates men students toward scholarship.

Mr. Vetal Flores is the Phi Eta Sigma sponsor. Officers include Pat Gladden, president; Earl Tyler, vice-president;

David Harlow, recording secretary; Steve Turner, treasurer; and James Lee Collet, corresponding secretary. Franklin Holik serves the group as senior advisor.

L. to R., First row: Mike Rauch, Earl Tyler, Monroe Dierschke, Jr., Perry Buck, James Collett, David Harlow. Second row: Chuck White,

Phi Alpha Theta Notes Excellence In History Study

Recognizing excellence in history is the Xi Zeta Chapter of PHI ALPHA THETA. Members must have a better than 3.0 average in history, completing at least twelve hours in this subject and having 3.0 or above in two-thirds of the remainder of their college work.

This group includes both student members and members previously inducted into other chapters of Phi Alpha Theta. Their initiation banquet features a guest speaker.

Xi Zeta's faculty sponsor is Mr. Randolph. Student leaders include Charles Parrish, president; Arnolde DeLeon, vice-president; Jim Ellen Adams, secretary-treasurer; and Freddie Fuchs, historian.

L. to R., First row: Allen Hurt, Linda Jones, Freddy Fuchs, Jim Ellen Adams. Second row: Arnolde DeLeon, Charles Parrish, Mr. Barry Crouch, Mr. Bob Holcomb, Mr. Robert Byrns, Mr. J. Ralph Randolph, sponsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Randolph assist guests at a tea held for prospective Phi Alpha Theta members in the ASU Food Service Center.

Mathematics Honor Society Begins First Year With Much Enthusiasm

The MATHEMATICS HONOR SOCIETY was formed in May, 1969, with a total of seventeen charter members—eleven students and six mathematics faculty members. The present society roll includes an addition of five fall semester initiates.

Promoting scholarly activity in mathematics among students is the organization's purpose. The society works in close coordination with the Mathematics Club to promote mathematical interests. The group plans to affiliate with Pi Mu Epsilon, the national mathematics honor society.

President Anne Paschal and vice-president Danny Vaughn initiate the society activities, while Van Stahl acts as secretary-treasurer. Sponsoring the honor group is Mr. George Hill.

L. to R., First row: Mr. George Hill, Danny Vaughn, Anne Paschal, Van Stahl. Second row: Mike Torres, Dr. Cass Archer, David Gould, Janice Halfmann, Franklin Holik, Linda Johnson, Carolyn Seitzler, Shirley West, Dr. John Duke.

Language Students Go to Mexico

To help promote international understanding, the members and sponsors went to Monterrey, Mexico, during the semester break and hope to make this trip a yearly project.

ALPHA MU GAMMA, Epsilon Kappa Chapter, is a national foreign languages club with membership open to students taking any foreign language. A student studying any language and interested in promoting international understanding may be an associate member. Making two A's in the same foreign language is the requirement which active members must meet.

The primary purpose of the local chapter is to encourage and honor students for outstanding achievement in college foreign language study.

L. to R., First row: Dr. Lewis Fraser (sponsor), Dr. Otto Tetzlaff (honorary member), Mrs. Mildred Wiseman (sponsor), Louise Agnew, Guy Askew, president Julia Caballero, Connie Henson. Monterrey, Mexico was toured by a group of 27 for five days.

One honorary and 21 active new members were initiated Dec. 8.

Members provide entertainment at fund-raising Mexican supper.

Sigma Delta Pi Stresses Quality In Spanish Skills

The newly organized SIGMA DELTA PI encourages scholarship in Spanish. It honors Spanish majors and minors who have at least a 2.79 overall average.

The organization promotes an interest in Spanish culture and literature through its activities. Initiation ceremonies are conducted in Spanish according to Spanish tradition. Also, Mr. Osvaldo Orraca, the group's faculty advisor, spoke on Miguel del Unamuno, one of the greatest Spanish philosophers and authors of the century.

Dr. Helen Yeats is sponsor of Sigma Delta Pi. President is Joe Segura; vice president is Florence Emler; and Christine Scott is secretary-treasurer.

Aggies Learn Farming Skills

Judging a stock show in December are ex-students Dawson Coleman of Miles and Robert Elliot, rancher.

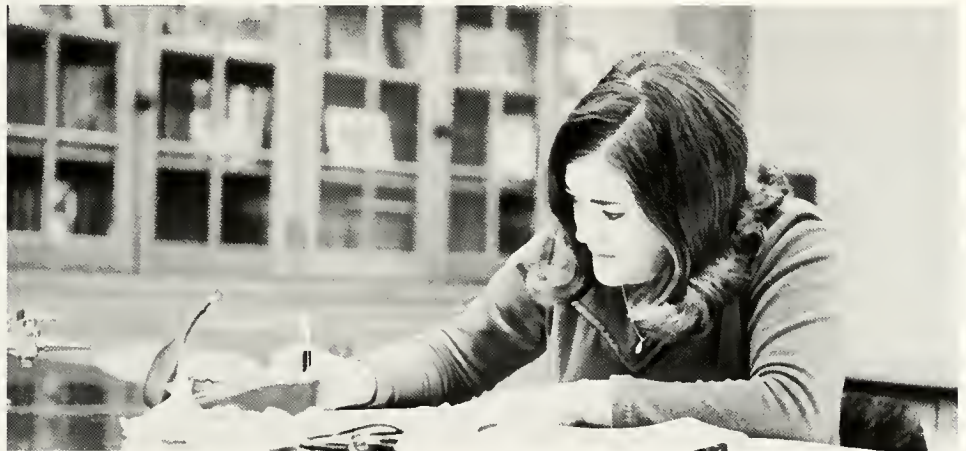

In his entomology class, Merel Wilson studies crop insects.

Concho Aggies sponsor is Mr. R. B. Dooley.

As the only female ag major at ASU, Sheri Allen studies for a lecture.

Karen Mohler is Aggie sweetheart.

Promoting an understanding of agricultural systems and equipment, the CONCHO AGGIES were founded in 1948. A student must be taking one or more courses in agriculture and have an interest in the program to become a member.

Projects for 1969-70 include preparations for two state eliminations held on the ASU campus. A recognition banquet in the spring commends students who have contributed to the club, to the ag department or to the University.

SEA, Tutors Boys at Boys Ranch

ASU's STUDENT EDUCATION ASSOCIATION tutors at Boys' Ranch. Members bring candy and fruit for the boys' Christmas party.

SEA attempts to introduce education majors to the teaching profession. Each month SEA hosts a guest speaker. Among these speakers is Mr. Glenn Kidd, a consultant of Texas State Teachers Association. Members attend the area conference in Abilene and the state convention in Corpus Christi. At the district FTA convention the club provided a panel on "What is SEA?" The organization sponsors a cake walk at the Winter Carnival and a car for the Homecoming parade.

Sponsors are Mrs. Maurine Walker and Dr. David Tullis. Officers are Frances Pietzsch, president; Julia Caballero, 1st vice-president; Janice Burrus, 2nd vice-president; James Riddle, 3rd vice-president; Jo Lyn Dabney, 4th vice-president; Paula Miller, 5th vice-president; Beverly Herndon, recording secretary; Glenda Ward, corresponding secretary; Margo Santiago, treasurer; Burdett Terrill, parliamentarian; Ruby Williams, historian; and Empress McFarland, reporter.

L. to R., First row: Mrs. Elizabeth Jones (sponsor), Wanda Halfmann, Bessie Hitch, Juanita Pruneda, Beth Durgin, Jean Corley, Ruth Halfmann, Mrs. Shirley Robertson (sponsor).

Imitating the nursing instructors and characterizing nursing fundamentals are the theme of two skits performed by student members in an attempt to increase membership.

This professional organization is mainly a service group for members in the community, assisting persons in a non-professional capacity.

ALPHA DELTA NU is affiliated with the National and Texas Student Nursing Association. Aims of the group are to keep up with the latest technical advances and to maintain an alert, up-to-date program.

Nursing instructors Mrs. Elizabeth Jones and Mrs. Shirley Robertson sponsor the group. Linda Burpo is president; Beth Durgin fills the vice-president slot. Secretary and treasurer are Bessie Hitch and Wanda Halfmann, respectively.

Bessie Hitch, senior nursing student, misuses a clamp in a skit performed during Alpha Delta Nu's membership drive conducted this fall.

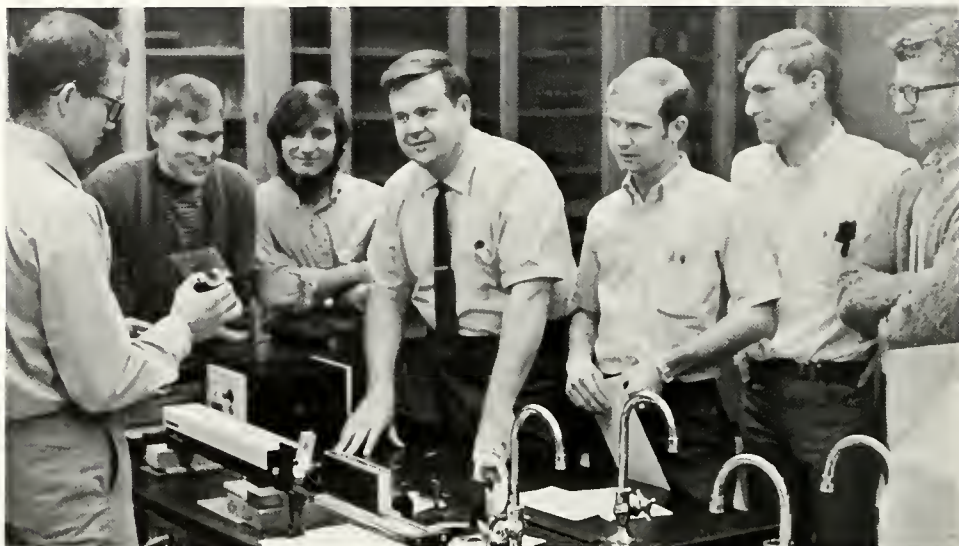

Physics Club Promotes Careers

Informing area high school students of physics and engineering careers is a project of the SOCIETY OF PHYSICS STUDENTS. A second club activity is to help conduct the Texas Academy of Science held on March 6.

This professional group is a member of the student section of the American Institute of Physics.

Guest speakers at the monthly meetings inform the students of the latest physics and engineering news.

Charles Kahlig and Larry Kujawski are the president and vice-president, respectively. Pat Gladden holds the position of treasurer, while Franklin Holik is secretary.

Biological Society Recognizes Men

The Angelo State University BIOLOGICAL SOCIETY bestows honorary lifetime membership upon three outstanding San Angelo area residents. These men, Mr. O. G. Babcock, Dr. Cecil French, and Dr. Raleigh Trotter, are honored because of the interest they have shown in both the community and the college.

The Biological Society, newly organized last spring, attempts to promote an interest in all fields of biology among the students of ASU and among interested members of the community. Hoping to unite those interested in biology, it also contains about twenty associate members who are physicians, wild life biologists, faculty members and other professionals in biology.

Each month this organization features an outstanding speaker in some field of biology. In the spring, it actively helps to plan and coordinate the Texas Academy of Science-Collegiate Academy which was held at Angelo State University March 5-7. The society also presents displays promoting biology and sponsored a field trip and several social functions.

Dr. Gordon Creel is the club's sponsor. Gordon Schrank is its president; Mike Torres is vice-president. The secretary is Barbara Archer, treasurer of the group is Anna Braden and Ken Smith is the Representative-at-large.

President Gordon Schrank awards Dr. Raleigh Trotter with Honorary Lifetime Membership for his work with ASU biology majors.

ASUBS sponsors a trio of "bugs" in the annual Homecoming Parade.

Historical Society Hosts Speakers

At each of its monthly meetings, the Angelo State University HISTORICAL SOCIETY presents a guest speaker on some field of history. Topics vary from Stephen Schmidt's "Why Restore Fort Concho" to a talk presented by Dr. Robert Franken on "The History of Medicine."

The major purpose of the Historical Society is to cultivate an interest in history on the Angelo State Campus. The society attempts to present many different aspects of history each year. It hopes to reach the interests of many ASU students, as well as club members. It also wishes to further the historical knowledge of its members. Dr. Jack Bates sponsors this organization and Burdett Terrill is president. Serving as vice-president is Bob Miles, and Julia Caballero is secretary-treasurer.

History club members gather after a meeting to talk about individual history interests.

Colonel Burns, Dave Wilson, and Gail Conner discuss a fine detail of history.

Guest Lectures and Films Expose Students to Mathematical Concepts

L. to R., First row: Janice Halfmann, Peggie McClement, Sherry Vaughn. Second row: Jackie Dukes, Dr. Jay Amburgey, Dr. Noel Evans (sponsor).

Guest lecturers furnish information about mathematical concepts lightly touched upon in the classroom and about concepts the student has not been exposed to. Through films obtained from the Audio-Visual Department and research reports, the significance of mathematics is realized by the members.

Supervising the MATHEMATICS CLUB's projects are president Jackie Dukes and vice-president Janice Halfmann. Sherry Vaughn is the secretary-treasurer, while Peggie McClement is the publicity chairman. Sponsor for the group is Dr. Noel Evans.

A barbecue supper held in May for the club members and the staff members of the Mathematics Department is a special club project.

Dr. Jay Amburgey of the mathematics faculty explores the subject of axiom systems as a guest speaker at the club's November meeting.

XGI's Have Prize Float

Winning third place for their Homecoming float, the XGI ASSOCIATION received a $50 award.

XGI is a social and fraternal organization for ex-servicemen and active duty members. They sponsor a dart booth at the Winter Carnival, hold a social event each semester, and have a Christmas party for underprivileged children at Rio Vista.

Each year the club promotes a project for the benefit of the college. Last year they purchased the Ram mascot, Dominic II. As a public service, they provide a resident, on a yearly basis, at San Angelo Center at Carlsbad.

Alan Borger is the group's sponsor and Barry Crouch is co-sponsor. Its officers are David Horton, president; Steve McElrath, vice-president; Clarence Speiker, secretary; and John Speiler, treasurer.

XGI's choose Linda Tawater as sweetheart.

L. to R., First row: Larry Clark, James Marecek, Darrell O'Neal, David Horton. Second row: Robert Rosson, Jim Riddle, Linda Tawater (sweetheart), Glenn Pruitt, Clarence Speiker, Jerry Ayers, Warren Kaiser,

Rifle Club Develops Marksmanship

Encouraging the proper handling of firearms is the major purpose of ASU's RIFLE CLUB. The club, composed of students who respect and understand their guns, arouses a competitive spirit among its members. They strive for marksmanship and practice good sportsmanship in rifle matches. Most of the matches they attend are sponsored by the San Angelo Gun Club.

Mr. Delbert Tartar is the faculty sponsor of the club. Student leadership is provided by president Jim Bean. Ted Caffey is vice-president and Bill Coffey is program chairman. Treasurer of the group is Eugene Castleberry.

Rifle Club members Eugene Castleberry, Mike Brown, Robert McGarvey, and Jim Bean practice proper handling of various firearms.

Press Club Sponsors Journalism Workshop

A major project of the PRESS CLUB each year is Journalism Day. This workshop is held in the spring for area high school journalism students.

The organization consists of ASU students interested in journalism. Members sponsor a yearbook workshop and hold a workshop for visiting Girl Scouts in the fall. Several club members attend the Texas Interscholastic Press Association. This year it is held in El Paso. Money to send these members is raised by taking and selling pictures at both the Winter Carnival and the Mistletoe Ball. This club also participates in many other campus activities.

Mr. Wayland Yates and Mr. Kenneth Casstevens are co-sponsors of the Press Club. Alan Kelly is the club's president, and Eddie Walraven serves as vice-president. Nell Fisher is secretary-treasurer. Parliamentarian for the Press Club is Charles Redden.

Beverly Farley, Joyce Zimmerschied, Debbie Roop, Mr. Wayland Yates, sponsor, and Paul Rollins point out and correct some copy in the Ram Page.

L. to R., First row: Joyce Bubenik, Gayle Childers. Second row: Charles Redden, Eddie Walraven, Barbara Matthiesen, Linda Hoelscher, Stanley Wilson, Bill Brumfield, Vicki Clifton.

Terrilee Pettigrew, Nell Fischer, Barbara Bigard, Roy Ivey, and Mr. Ken Casstevens, sponsor, look over some pictures.

Alan Kelley presides over the Press Club.

Chicano Student Organization Sponsors Public Services

L. to R., First row: Mr. Robert Feynn (sponsor), Nemesio Perez, Richard Aguirre, Robert Martinez, Lydia Cantu, Sylvia Lara, Elias Lara. Second row: Heraclio Herrera, Roy Martinez, George Barragan, Carlos

Alvarado, Sam Ibanez, Jesse Macias, Mary Lou Hernandez, Julia Garcia, Olga Valenzuela. Third row: Lydia Vargas, Danny Valadez, Pat Nava, Jaime Hervella.

During the winter, the CHICANO STUDENT ORGANIZATION attempts to increase the number of San Angelo residents eligible to vote. Together with the ASU Newman Center and the Mexican-American Association at San Angelo Central High School, they encourage people to take an active interest in their community by registering to vote. They also provide transportation to the polls on election days.

The Chicano Student Organization is newly formed this year. Its primary purpose is to serve as a public service group and its projects attempt to benefit both the community and the college.

Throughout the year, it sponsors several social events. These include a dance by the Soul Masters and a taco dinner at the Newman Center. The group also provides a tutoring service at Mertzon High School and encourages high school students in the San Angelo area to strive for a higher education. It contributes to the Friendship Tree for the benefit of St. John's Hospital. Also, it sells bumper stickers supporting the grape boycott and organizes a petition to change the food commodities program to the food stamp program. The Chicano Student Organization participates in numerous other community projects. Now the group is attempting to establish a scholarship fund for some ASU student. It also wishes to donate books on Mexican-American history and Mexican-American culture to the ASU library.

This organization has two sponsors, Mr. Robert Feynn and Mr. Jerry Perry. The officers of the Chicano Student Organization are Nemesio Perez, president; Richard Aguirre, vice-president; Robert Martinez, program chairman; Lydia Cantu, secretary; Sylvia Lara, historian; Elias Lara, parliamentarian; Mary Ornelas, reporter; and Gilbert Ornelas, treasurer.

ASU Dames

Serve Women

Promoting friendship among the married and formerly married women students of Angelo State University is the purpose of the UNIVERSITY DAMES.

These women serve their community in many public service projects. They sponsor a Christmas collection for the neighborhood centers in San Angelo. Each year the women of the Dames hold a coffee for the graduating seniors. They also hold various other teas throughout the year. Once a month the Dames meet at an informal luncheon meeting to conduct business, eat lunch and get acquainted with one another.

Dr. William F. O'Zee serves as sponsor. President is Bennie Lock. Patsy Green is first vice-president, and Charlotte Myers is second vice-president. Ruby Thompson is secretary; Elsie Berry is treasurer; Glenda Matthews is reporter; and Sara Jane Wittel is parliamentarian.

President Bennie Lock presides over informal luncheon meeting.

The University Dames unite ASU married women students socially.

L. to R., First row: Jim Ellen Adams, Bennie Lock, Charlotte Myers, Glenda Matthews. Second row: Yvonne Carroll, Donna Castleberry, Allyne Appleton, Nelda Backus.

Editorial Board Notes Problems

Coming together to discuss common publication problems of the RAM PAGE, RAMBOUILLET, and PENSADOR is the prime purpose of the ASU EDITORIAL BOARD.

With the hopes of improving and upgrading the university's publications, the group meets with publication advisors monthly.

The board is composed of all persons holding editorial positions on the Angelo State campus.

Barbara Matthiesen, Rambouillet editor, uses a paper box and viewer to crop prints.

L. to R., First row: Stanley Wilson, Eddie Walraven, Mrs. Maxine Henthorn (advisor). Second row: Dee Lackey, Nell Fischer, Joyce Bubenik, Barbara Matthiesen. Third row: Alan Kelley, Jim McDougall, Charles Redden. Fourth row: Mr. Wayland Yates (advisor), Mr. Ken Casstevens (advisor).

Charles Redden, Eddie Walraven and Alan Kelley ponder a problem occurring on the Ram Page.

Editing the quarterly published literary magazine, Pensador, is Jim McDougall.

Women's Recreation Association Plans Individual Team Sports

WOMEN'S RECREATION ASSOCIATION serves as the Women's Intramural Sports Program planning group and strives to promote friendly intramural competition. Individual members act as directors of the activities, which include team and individual sports. Awards are presented to outstanding participants in basketball and volleyball.

Projects include planning tournaments for intramural sports activities and sponsoring an annual WRA Picnic in May for members and women health and physical education staff members.

President Pam Love and vice-president Madeline Smith provide leadership for the club. Handling business and financial matters is secretary-treasurer June Halfmann. Reporter Nancy Kidd and historian Janice Halfmann serve in the public relations area. Sponsor is Dr. Jewell Pye.

A co-ed can earn a sweater and varsity letter by participating in WRA and intramurals.

Activities include basketball, volleyball, badminton, and tennis.

Team captains are elected for each sport by the team members.

Afro-Americans Want Black Unity

The Angelo State University AFRO-AMERICAN ASSOCIATION emphasizes black unity.

Its goal is to unite the black students on campus and to serve as their voice in campus affairs.

At frequent meetings throughout the year, club members discuss topics of interest. Their discussions emphasize the importance of black culture in today's society and demonstrate a pride in this culture.

The Afro-American Association, with over twenty members has two sponsors, Bill Henderson, professor of government and Jerry Johnson, professor of English.

Officers of this association include Arvid Ray Hicks, president, and Morris Overstreet, vice-president. Wanda Jackson serves this club as secretary-treasurer.

L. to R., Arvid Hicks, Don Burrell, Charles Washington, Wanda Jackson, Morris Overstreet.

Often, club sponsor, Mr. Voss, functions as the dance caller.

Diana Block reaches for the next "gent" in a dance maneuver.

Four Corners provides its members with enjoyment and relaxation.

L. to R., First row: Peggy Wyatt, Cindy Fry, Micki Sullivan, Nancy Rogers, Mr. Erwin Voss (sponsor), Second row: Kay Corbell, Ellen Multer, Betty Wilde, Nancy Guy, Patricia Dierschke. Third row: Marilyn Heinze, Sandra Havlak, Bonnie James, Ildiko Roman, Sharon Cox, Karen Counts. Fourth row: Barbara Holtman, Jeannie Weishuhn, Debbie Moore, Alan Hohensee, Kent Sorenson. Fifth row: Marshall Huling, Vernon Moore, Jim Alexander, Tom McBroom, Norma Perry, Don Summers. Sixth row: George Williams, Michael Block, Monroe Dierschke, Scotty Holland, Freddie Escue, Waymon Burns, Steve Sullivan, Bobby Halfmann, Lee Ray.

Four Corners Fosters Square Dance Events

Each year, FOUR CORNERS SQUARE DANCE CLUB builds a float for the rodeo parade. Upon this float, members of the local square dance club perform various dances.

The major purpose of Four Corners is to provide fun and fellowship for Angelo State University students. It promotes recreational activities on campus and acts as a channel of communication between students interested in square dancing and members of the local square dance club.

At weekly meetings, the members learn and perform numerous dances. Often they hold exhibition dances for social groups. They participate in square dance festivals and Western Association square dances. Among those attended this year was the Brady Square Dance Festival at which Harper Smith, a professional caller from Dallas, performed. The club is also establishing an annual scholarship for one of its members.

Sponsor for the club is Erwin Voss. Officers of the club are Marshall Huling, president; Freddie Escue, vice-president; Marilyn Heinze, secretary; and Sandra Havlak, reporter.

Skirts whirl as Peggy Wyatt and her partner "promenade home" after a "right-left grand."

Bible Center Gives Community Progress, Christian Emphasis

Relaxing after classes, Roger Lloyd uses the TV room in the Church of Christ center.

Keeping the community as well as the University in mind, the CHURCH OF CHRIST BIBLE STUDY CENTER provides fellowship and service to the people of San Angelo.

Under the guidance of Mr. Marion McKinney, sponsor, the center involves its members in activities for the development of Christian growth and community progress.

Getting acquainted at the beginning of school is the purpose of the faculty tea given to honor teachers and administrators.

Twice during the year, center members travel to the H. E. Butt Foundation Camp near Leakey, Texas for weekend retreats.

The Church of Christ Bible Study Center provides classrooms for courses in Bible instructed by Mr. McKinney. Upon completion of the course, students receive three credits toward graduation through the University.

Preaching a sermon at Miles Church of Christ is Gary Brewer.

Weekly charm classes under the direction of Mrs. Alice Surher train girls for etiquette and poise.

BSU Aids Growth Plus Recreation

Helping at a Latin-American Baptist Church is Jo Ann Burrell.

After classes, Donna King finds recreation facilities at the BSU.

Practicing for their state choir parts are Richard Gwyn and Dee Walsh.

BSU secretary is Norma Payton.

Providing a center for devotion and fellowship, the BAPTIST STUDENT UNION is supported jointly by the Baptist Churches of San Angelo. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Don Reavis, BSU enlists ASU students ecumenically in activities for mission action plus Christian education.

In September, BSU members spend a weekend at the H. E. Butt camp near Leakey, Texas. The group also travels to Cloudcroft for a ski retreat between semesters.

Two ASU'ers, Dee Walsh and Richard Gwyn, are members of the State Choir.

Newman Club Backs Friendship

The ASU NEWMAN CENTER attempts to bring Catholic students together socially, intellectually, and spiritually. Under the direction of Father Russell Schultz, the club meets on Thursday for films, speakers, and discussions. Every Sunday evening and often during the week, Father Schultz conducts mass. This is usually followed by an informal meeting.

The doors to the center are always open and ASU students are always welcome to come in to talk, study, visit the chapel, play games, or just relax.

The Newman club is governed by an advisory board consisting of Laura Hudson, Peggy Neill, Jonathan Jeffries, Jim Perry, John Peca, Ruby Williams, and Father Schultz. A nun, Sister Joan Mary, is often available to assist students.

Director Fr. Schultz conducts mass services several times weekly.

Dennis Kane discusses a problem with two Angelo State coeds.

Newman center provides a place to study.

Students enjoy a relaxing game of chess.

Reverend Thomas Connolly stops . . .

ponders his next thought . . .

and presents it to UMC students.

Thee Faiths Work Together as United Campus Ministries

The UNITED CAMPUS MINISTRY serves as the bible center for three different church groups—the Methodists, the Disciples, and the Episcopalians.

The center provides a place for students to come for relaxation or for study. It attempts to create an atmosphere where students can engage in active Christian faith.

As the church on campus, the United Campus Ministry holds Sunday evening sessions and a service during the week. These religious services are usually followed by a short meeting and a discussion.

Rev. George E. Archer, associate minister of the First Christian Church, Rev. Thomas Connolly, pastor of Day Memorial Church, and Rev. Richard F. Neal, pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, are the directors.

Members of the United Campus Ministries take the time to relax and play some spades.

Women's Residence Associations Coordinate Coeds' Dorm Life

The newly organized CARR HALL RESIDENCE ASSOCIATION serves as the governing body for girls living in Carr Hall. It plans activities for the girls. These include building a float and decorating the dormitory during Homecoming week. This year Carr's decorations placed first in the dormitory competition.

The association attempts to unite the girls and encourages them to show school spirit. The girls built a plyboard ram and presented it to the school to boost spirit at sporting events.

President of the Carr Hall association is Joy Petermann. Sue Sorrells serves as vice-president and Lillian Strickland is the organization's secretary. Treasurer for the group is Madaline Smith. Cindy Birchett is parliamentarian and Terrilee Pettigrew is reporter. Mrs. Ruby Brookshire, director of Carr Hall, is the sponsor of the organization.

Carr Hall residents prepare decorations for their float entry in the Homecoming parade.

L. to R., Wyvone Green, Judy Rose, Nancy Kidd, Terrilee Pettigrew, Mrs. Ruby Brookshire (sponsor), Janie Pearce, Nadine Pentecost, Madeline Smith.

len Turnbow, Marylou Harris, Sharon Cox, Jennifer Henson, Kay Matlock, Lindy Lissner, Susan Lange, Veta Deaver, Cathy Smith, Reva Letz, Lynda Miller, Bonnie Boswell, Karen Kelley.

Victory bell is presented to Coach Lane by Jeanine Kunkel of the Women's High Rise.

The victory bell which is rung at every game is presented to the Rams by the WOMEN'S HIGH RISE RESIDENCE ASSOCIATION. The girls from the high rise keep the bell and ring it at every game.

The residence association, composed of representatives from each floor and a slate of officers elected by the girls, is the governing body which plans and coordinates programs affecting residence hall living. It attempts to stimulate interest in campus activities and serves as a channel of communication among the residents.

Miss Beverly Truett, director of the high rise, is sponsor of the association.

L. to R., First row: Empress McFarland (president), Jeanine Kunkel (first vice-president), Frances Pietzsch (second vice-president), Ann Lilly (secretary), Cheryl Turner (treasurer). Second row: Miss Beverly Truett (sponsor), Joanna Johns (reporter), Marsha Behrens (historian), Martha Jordon (parliamentarian).

Residence Committees

Unite Men Students

Organizing and coordinating activities for men students at ASU is the purpose of the MEN'S RESIDENCE ASSOCIATIONS. They participate in many campus activities including Homecoming and intramural sports. They encourage the boys to take pride in their school and to demonstrate school spirit at pep rallies and sporting events. They also plan athletic activities.

Each of the three residence associations serves as a governing body for one of the men's dormitories on campus. The Men's High-Rise Residence Hall Council is directed by Mr. Roy Lazenby. The Mayer Hall Residence Association has as its sponsor Dormitory director, Mrs. Zola Modgling. Mrs. Jewel Ochsner is director of the Runnels hall committee.

Phil Decker, Jimmie Wilson, and Jim Alexander serve as officers for Runnels Hall.

Pat Allaire, Clarence Davidson, Naoiki Shibata, Alton Patterson, and Glenn Patterson are officers of Mayer Hall's Residence Association.

As a part of Homecoming activities, students from the Men's Hi-rise take charge of encouraging spirit with their victory barrel.

Jerry Leavitt, Dan Batko, Gary Brewer, Gary Humphreys, Darrell Alldredge, Mike Greening, and John Q. Adams serve the Hi-rise.

Responsible for the functioning of student life within the framework of campus policy, the ANGELO STATE UNIVERSITY STUDENT ASSOCIATION includes all registered students taking a full load. The overall purpose of the ASUSA is to provide information concerning student life with explanations of policies, schedules, activities, ASU traditions, and a slate of proposed activities.

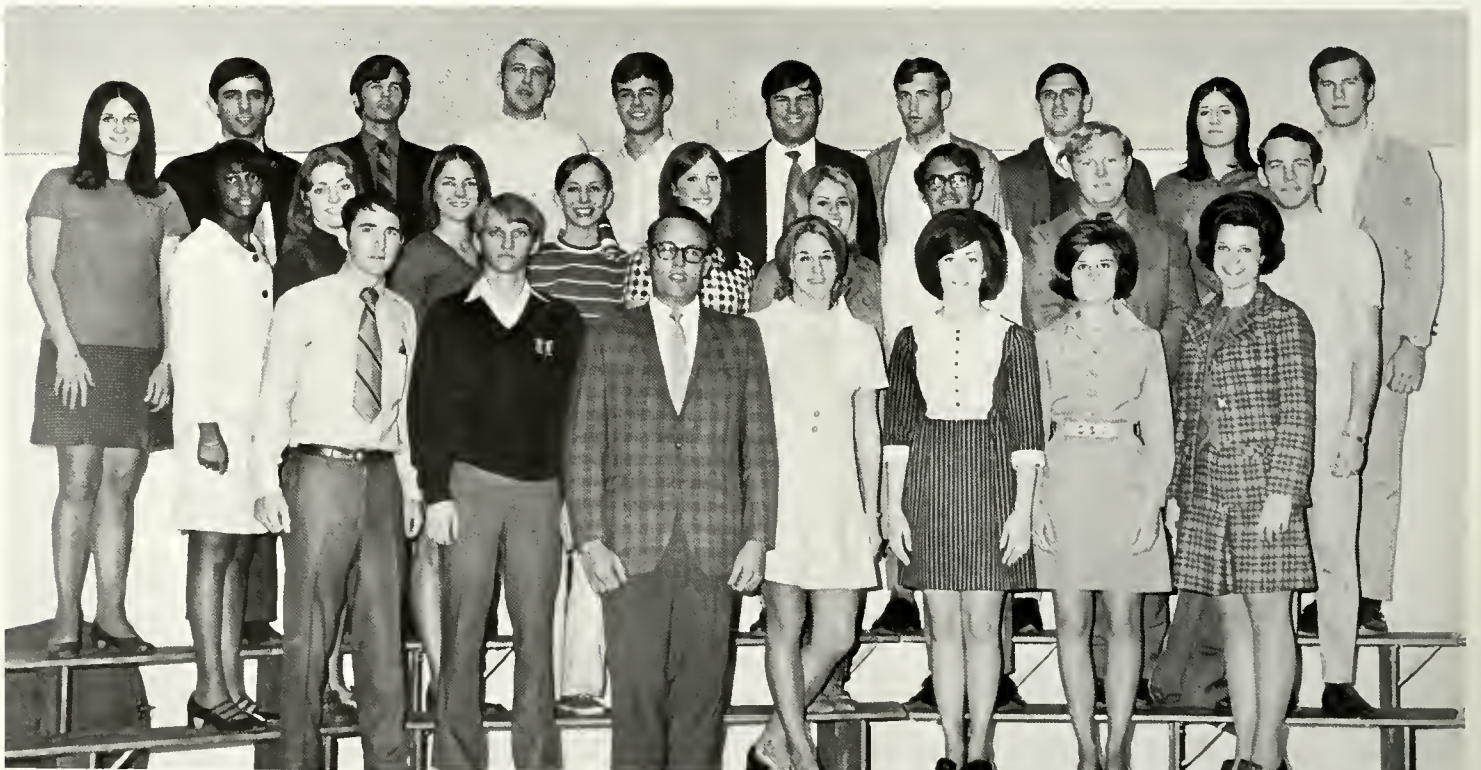

In 1969-70, STUDENT ASSOCIATION events were introduced during Howdy Week at the beginning of school. Monthly film festivals are sponsored by ASUSA during the year and entertainment includes shows and dances with the Uniques, Ray Price, and the New Christy Minstrels.

Student Association government is divided into three branches including the executive, the legislative, and the judicial. Smaller interests are headed by eleven ASUSA committees which direct the services in each field.

With the participation and support of each Student Association member, a proper scholastic attitude may be established.

ASUSA officers include Darrell O'Neal, business manager; Marvin Schultz, activities vice-president; and Jerry Johnston, first vice-president.

ASUSA Demonstrates Campus Leadership

Student duties include voting on campus policy.

Chosen by the students as ASUSA president is Carl Dodd.

Members of the student court are Christine Motl, junior associate justice, Brent Tarter, chief justice, Ken Smith, senior associate, and Ben Perez, junior associate justice.

Committees Are ASUSA Core

Preparing decorations, Marvin Schultz and Beep Cain get ready for the homcoming dance.

Supplementing the student governing body, eleven STUDENT COMMITTEES work in conjunction with faculty members and administrators to provide the best possible educational opportunities. According to the role of the committees they are jointly guided by the ASUSA president, or the activities vice-president.

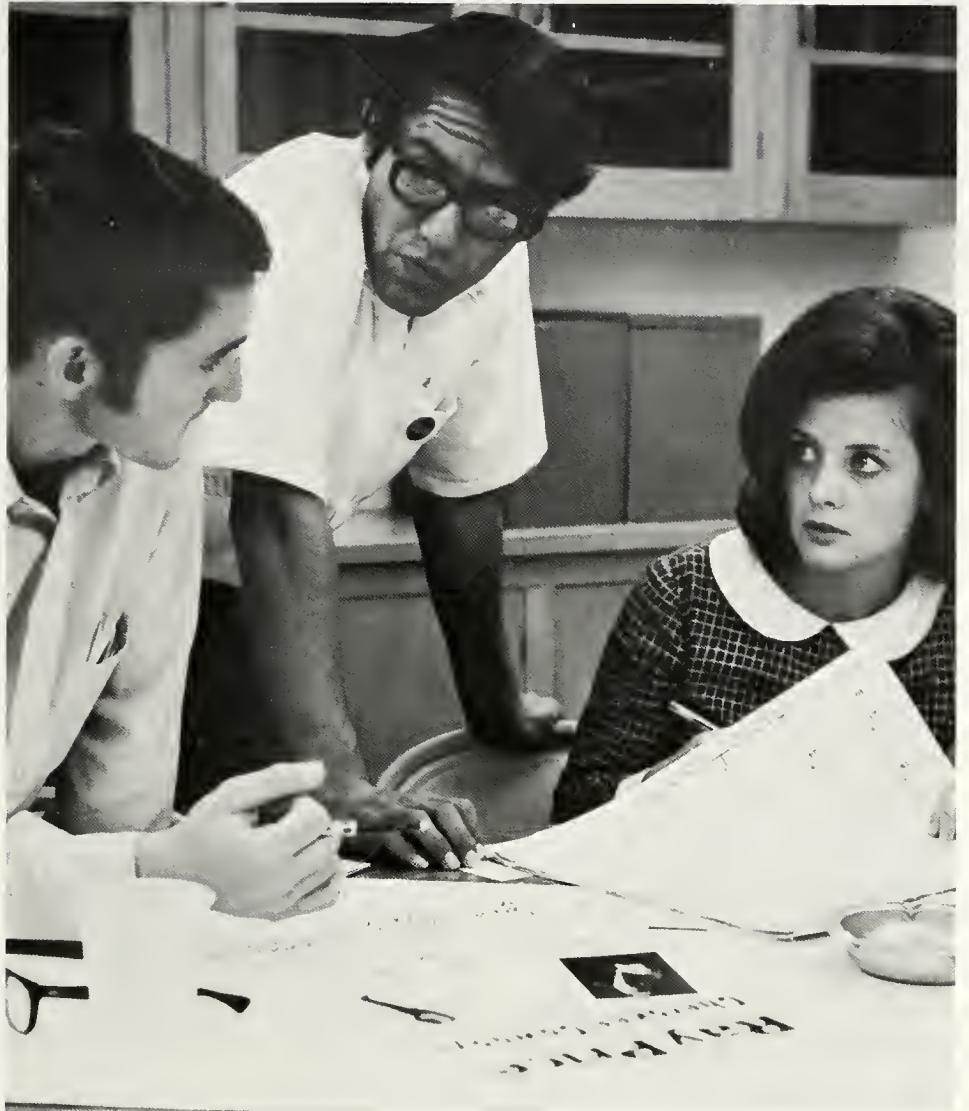

The committees include entertainment, speakers-on-campus, traffic appeals, public relations, constitutional reform, and educational reform task force. Each one is designed to serve the purpose for which it was intended.

Discussing entertainment possibilities are members of the committee, Cynthia Rabourn, Vicki Counting ballots after an ASUSA poll is Fred Moore.

Promoting all campus activities are members of the public relations committee, Richard Gwyn, Gilbert Ornelas, and Diana Block.

Clifton, and George Williams.

Working on committee projects are Karen Kelley, Dean Rabourn, Cynthia Rabourn, Marvin Schultz and Richard Gwyn.

Judo Club Skills Students

In Balance and Leverage

The skills of balance and leverage which are a must in accomplishing the task of JUDO have become an active phase in the lives of several ASU students.

Once this feat is gained, the expert has an ability to break arms, crack heads and generally protect himself should the need ever arise.

The club, founded on the A-State campus in '69 by Dr. William Norwood, meets thrice weekly. Passers-by during a meeting are likely to hear shouts, screams, moans and groans as the grapplers challenge each other in an apparently murderous manner.

The match is a formal process, begun with the referee's "rei" signal for a bow and "hajime" for the match to begin. Then the action begins with holding, choking and throwing procedures met by precise timing, balance and footing.

Coeds, as well as the male set, take an active part in this art.

Following the shout of the referee's bowing signal "rei," John Gurley, John Moore and Dr. Noel Evans wait for "hajime" which starts the action.

Bottoms-up finds a judoka following a throw which set him off-balance during a match.

To win, one or the other must score a good throw or clamp his opponent to the mat with a choke or some other type of punishing hold for at least 30 seconds, or an end may come if a fighter decides to concede the match and give up.

All beginners are at the white belt stage which has three classes. After passing these, one earns a brown belt.

Final rank, black belt, follows 16 steps.

Audio Visuals Holds Vast Future

Averaging more business in one week than in a whole semester two years ago, the AUDIO VISUALS Division is on-the-go.

Mrs. Polly O'Neal, head and sole full-time employee of the department, has the occasion of caring for over 150 tapes, 100 reels of film, and numerous other audio visual aids.

Also a part of her job is the building of a tape library for the department which is a part of the Porter Henderson Library.

Among machines which are available mainly for faculty use are a microfilm printer and reader, a diazo printer, projectors, tape recorders and record players.

The department is divided into a study lab and three listening rooms for students to use when listening to tapes and records of literature, drama, modern languages, shorthand, music, government and psychology. Also a preview room is located in the department for faculty to use in viewing movies.

Plans for the future see another room being converted into a darkroom for processing slides and photos for the department as well as much more equipment being added.

Karen Burton explains the manual film strip projector to Ricky Jones and Tommy Randle in the Audio Visuals class.

Mrs. Polly O'Neal has recorded over 150 tapes since 1967.

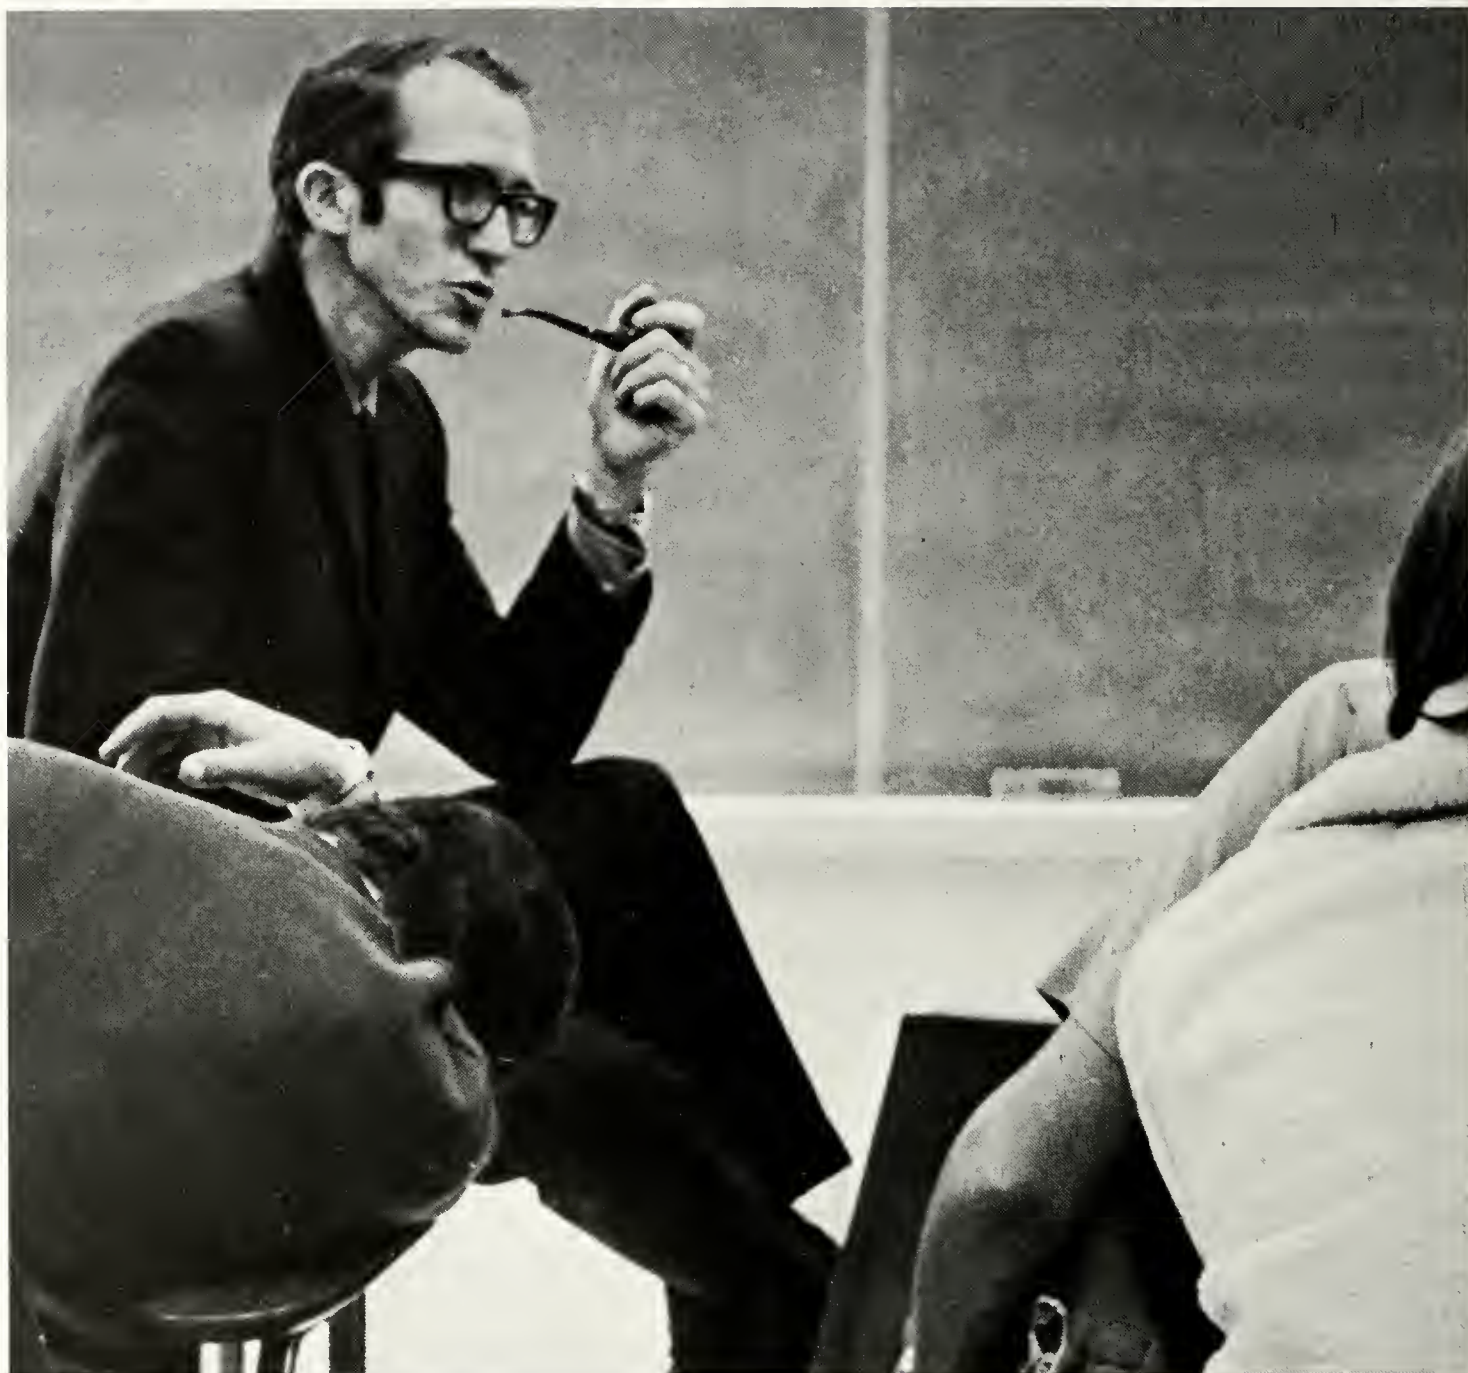

Vickey Strickland uses one of the six tape deck tables available in the study lab to speed up her shorthand.

Dr. Richard Gwyn finds the card catalog a helpful asset.

Johnny Ruth and Karen Burton experiment with the diazo printer which makes transparent prints for faculty and students.

New Home Built For Maintenance

Like the stage hands of a successful play, the sixty-five personnel of the MAINTENANCE DEPARTMENT are seldom noticed but nonetheless essential for the success of the university. Headed by Bernell 'Doc' Smith the department is responsible for the upkeep of the 64 acres of the campus under their domain.

To fulfill this responsibility, the staff performs its own painting, woodworking, gardening, landscaping, plumbing, and mechanical repairs, besides its custodial duties in the 37 buildings of classrooms, offices, and living quarters.

The new physical plant, finished late this spring, serves as headquarters for the department. It contains new and expanded offices, shops, and storage space that will aid the staff in the completion of their duties.

'Doc' Smith and Charles Whitlock repair an electric welder.

Need for a new shop is evident as Bobby Craft and Bill Carter work amid the clutter and chaos of the old maintenance shops.

Student Gary Dickson welds a beam in place on the new physical plant building being constructed for the maintenance department.

Maintenance director 'Doc' Smith consults secretary Oneida Sevey about a parts order.

Dale Combs finishes sanding a hat rack.

Using the Rambouillet office to prepare a lecture with slides is journalism instructor Kenneth Casstevens.

Dawson Employs Grant For Atomic Research

Working on a research study financed by a grant from the ASU faculty research funds, DR. HORACE RAY DAWSON is studying the process by which protons capture electrons from the atoms of various gases.

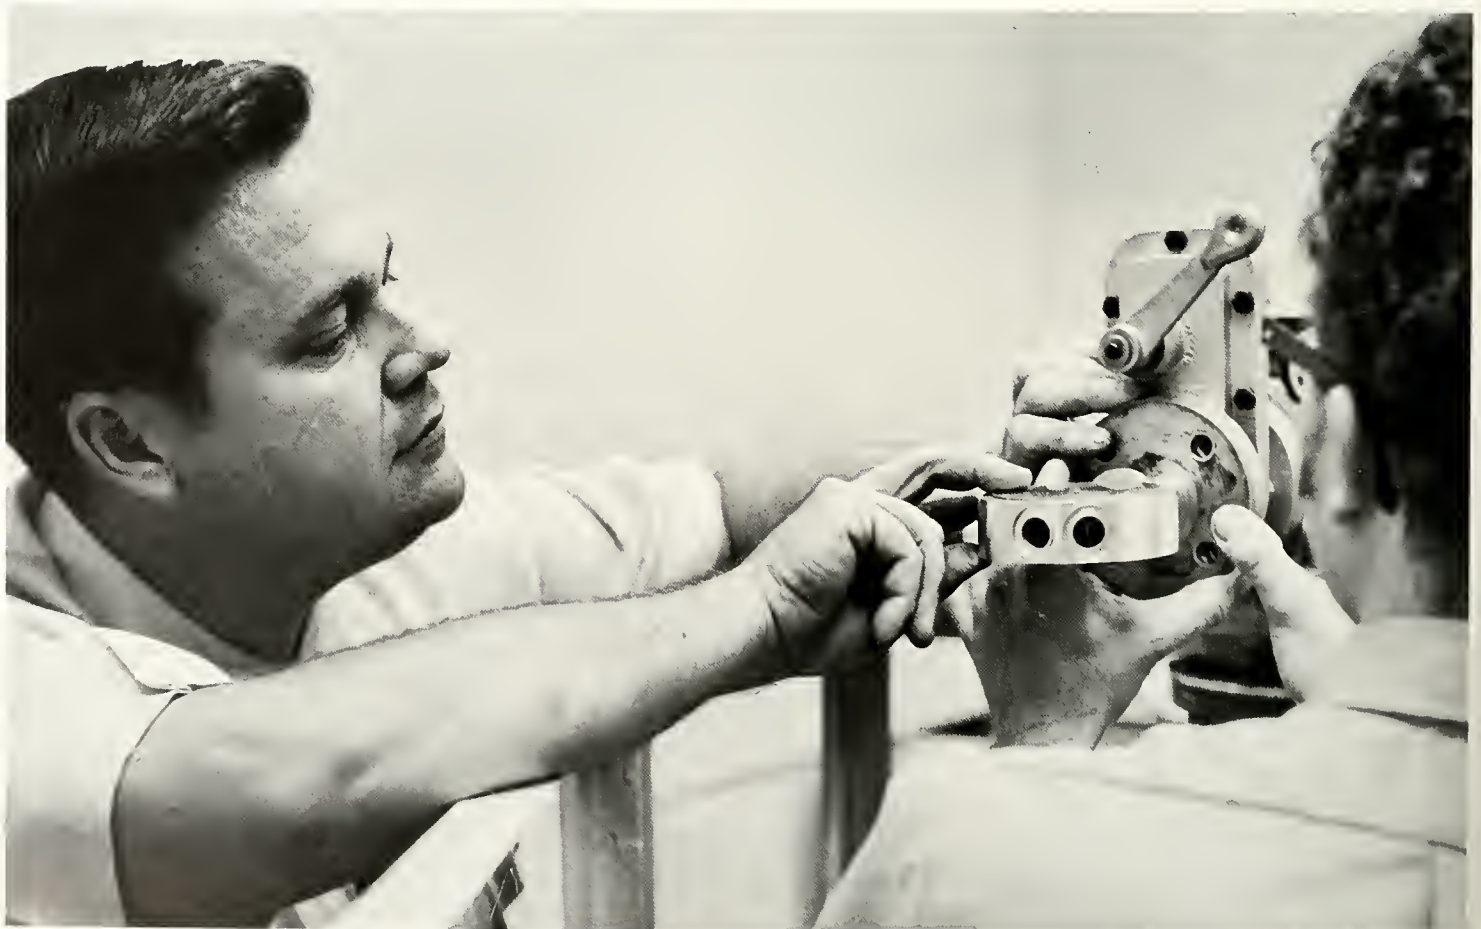

The information which he expects to secure from this research will probably be useful in calculations concerning the auroras—the light above the earth's polar regions. Dawson believes that this information may also be helpful in developing ion propulsion and thermonuclear reactions.

In the initial stages of his studies, Dawson will design and construct most of the complex equipment used in his research. This will include a low energy proton accelerator, an analyzing magnet, collision and observation chambers, and an optical detection system. Later he will use this equipment to determine the number of protons which capture electrons as they pass through a target gas. In addition, he can determine the energy level at which the electrons join the protons by the color of light they give off. Measurements will be made by a photo multiplier tube so precisely calibrated that it will actually determine the number of protons or units of light emitted.

Dr. Dawson has been a member of the ASU faculty since 1966. He has a bachelors and a masters in physics from North Texas State University and a doctorate in physics with a specialization in atomic collisions from the University of Arkansas. Two ASU students, Franklin Holik and Larry Kujawski are assisting the physicist with his research project.

All equipment must be accurately made.

Dr. Dawson and his student assistant, Larry Kujawski, check the critical alignment necessary in all the equipment he will use.

Many accurate measurements must be made to obtain useful data.

Dawson stops to ponder a question concerning his research project on atomic fission.

Dr. Dawson connects the diffusion pump to the vacuum system.

This data will be used to determine the means in which protons capture electrons.

Library Aids Student Studies

One of the newest libraries in Texas, the PORTER HENDERSON LIBRARY continues to grow.

Joe B. Lee, head librarian, with 15 years of experience, staffs 14 women full-time and many student assistants parttime.

Built at a cost of $1.5 million in 1967, the three floors of the modern construction have a seating capacity of 1000 students.

Providing service for students, faculty and local residents, the library consists of nearly 100,000 volumes, 70,000 of which have been placed since its opening.

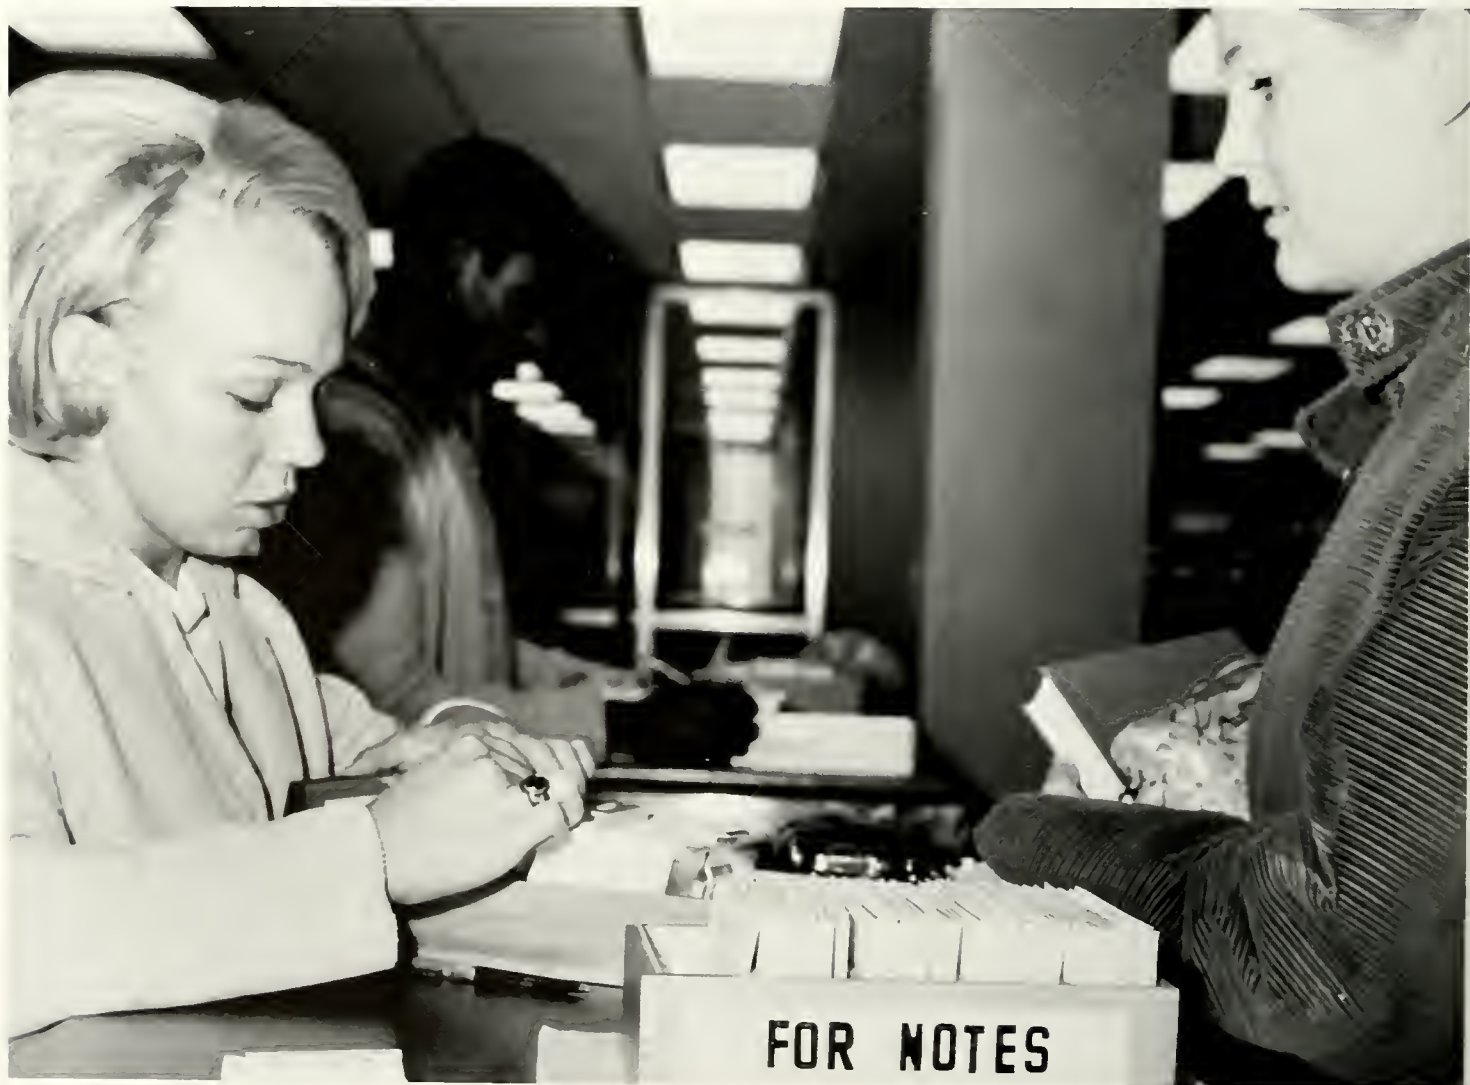

Also extending facilities for reference and research, the building supplies about 1000 current magazines and 30 daily and weekly newspapers, eight of which are foreign.

Although there are no recent plans, the construction is designed to add a fourth floor.

Lee solves the library problems.

The card catalogue provides a quick reference.

Mrs. Barbara Salvato checks out-going books.

Two weeks are allotted for each book.
